I. SCOPE

This policy covers all faculty, staff, and students of American University, applicants for admission and employment as well as vendors, guests, and contractors (“AU Community”). This policy applies to all university programs and activities. The university will address complaints related to an AU Community member’s participation in those programs and activities regardless of whether the offending conduct occurred on or off campus. The policy is intended to be consistent with the provisions of applicable local and federal laws and is not intended to provide more or less than required by law.

NOTE: Complaints by students of unlawful disability discrimination are reviewed using the Disability Grievance Procedures outlined in the online Student Guide. Complaints by students of unlawful discrimination related to the assignment of grades are reviewed using the procedures outlined in the Academic Regulations Student Academic Grievances. Complaints by faculty of unlawful discrimination relating to reappointment, promotion, and tenure are reviewed using the Faculty Manual Tenure-Line Faculty Appeal for Non-Renewal, Non-Promotion, and Tenure Denial. Finally, complaints alleging unlawful discrimination (including sexual harassment and sexual violence) against Washington College of Law students are reviewed using the procedures outlined in the WCL Honor Code.
II. POLICY STATEMENT

Nondiscrimination and Equal Opportunity in Employment and Education

American University is an equal opportunity, affirmative action institution that operates in compliance with applicable laws and regulations. The university does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national origin, religion, sex (including pregnancy), age, sexual orientation, disability, marital status, personal appearance, gender identity and expression, family responsibilities, political affiliation, source of income, veteran status, an individual's genetic information or any other bases under federal or local laws (collectively "Protected Bases") in its programs and activities. The university expressly prohibits any form of discriminatory harassment (including sexual harassment, dating and domestic violence, sexual assault, and stalking) on any Protected Bases.

Complaint Resolution

The university will respond promptly and effectively to reports of discrimination and will take appropriate action to prevent, to correct, and if necessary, to discipline individuals who violate this policy. Members of the university community who have relevant information are expected to cooperate with investigations of such misconduct.

Retaliation

The university prohibits retaliation against a member of the AU community for filing a complaint of discrimination or assisting in the filing of a complaint, or participating in the resolution of a complaint. Retaliation includes but is not limited to threats, intimidation, and/or adverse actions related to employment or education.

III. DEFINITIONS OF PROHIBITED CONDUCT

A. Discrimination. Discrimination occurs when an individual suffers an adverse employment, academic, or other decision based on an individual’s protected status.

C. Sexual Harassment and Sexual Violence. Sex discrimination covers sexual harassment including sexual violence. The determination of what constitutes sexual harassment will vary with particular circumstances, but may be described generally as: unwelcome sexual advances; requests for sexual favors; and other oral, written, or physical conduct of a sexual nature when:

- submission to or rejection of such conduct is made either explicitly or implicitly a term or a condition of education, employment, or participation in other university activities;
• submission to or rejection of such conduct by an individual is used as the basis for evaluation in making academic or personnel decisions affecting that individual; or
• such conduct has the purpose or effect of unreasonably interfering with an individual’s performance, or creating an intimidating, hostile, or offensive work or learning environment.

Sexual violence includes acts such as rape, dating and domestic violence, sexual assault, and other forms of non-consensual sexual activity; or violence or harassment based on sexual orientation. For resources available to victims of sexual violence, please refer to the Sexual Assault Resources for Students in the Student Guide, or contact the Office of the Dean of Students.

F. Sexual Assault. Sexual assault is defined as conduct of a sexual nature, including, but not limited to, sexual contact or physical exposure directed at another person without consent.

G. Stalking. Stalking is defined as repeated, unwanted contact with any person, including contact by electronic means or by proxy, or the credible threat of repeated contact with the intent to place a reasonable person in fear for his or her safety or the safety of his or her family or close acquaintances or to inflict substantial emotion distress.

IV. POLICY PROCESS

The following roles and responsibilities and complaint resolution process is established to assist the university in ensuring an educational environment and work place free from sexual harassment, discrimination, and discriminatory harassment.

a. Investigating Title IX and other discrimination complaints.
b. Coordinating, planning, and managing the discrimination, discriminatory harassment, sexual harassment, dating and domestic violence, sexual assault and stalking education and training programs including bystander intervention. The programs will include wide dissemination of this policy to the university community; providing educational materials to promote compliance with the policy and familiarity with reporting procedures; and training university employees responsible for reporting or responding to reports of discrimination.
c. Developing and implementing procedures to provide for prompt and effective response to reports of discrimination in accordance with this policy.
d. Coordinating the maintenance of records of reports of discrimination complaints and actions taken in response to reports, including records of investigations, voluntary resolutions, and disciplinary action, as appropriate.

develop and review educational and informational materials regarding sexual and discriminatory harassment.

D. INITIATING A COMPLAINT

1. STEP ONE (Where to File/Report a Complaint and Estimated Resolution Timelines). Notify the appropriate Responsible Official as quickly as possible of violations of this policy and within one (1) year of the alleged violation. Complaints filed after the (1) year period may be considered by the Responsible Official when requested in writing and extenuating circumstances exist. A complaint under this Policy must be filed with the office having disciplinary jurisdiction over the accused person (“Respondent”). Therefore, complaints should be reported to the following offices:

a. Complaints against Students. A complaint against a student is referred to the Dean of Students.

b. Complaints against Law Students. A complaint against a law student is referred to the WCL Dean of Student Affairs.

c. Complaints against Staff, University Administrator, University Guest or Contractor. A complaint against a staff member, university administrator, vendor or guest is referred to the Assistant Vice President of Human Resources.

d. Complaints against a Faculty Member, Faculty Administrator, or an Individual Carrying Out Teaching Responsibilities. A complaint against a faculty member or faculty administrator (e.g. Dean, Chair) is referred to the Dean of Academic Affairs.

e. Complaints against the President or a Member of the University’s Cabinet. A complaint against a member of the University President’s Cabinet is referred to the University President (Presidents Building, 202-885-2121), and a complaint against the University President is referred to the Chairman of the Board of Trustees (c/o Secretary of the Board of Trustees, President’s Office Building, 4400 Massachusetts Avenue, N.W., Washington, DC 20016).

Option to File a Criminal Report. Simultaneous to pursuing resolution through the university’s internal process, the Complainant may also file a criminal report with the Metropolitan Police Department or the appropriate law enforcement agency. The university will not delay its investigation if criminal charges are filed. At the request of law enforcement authorities, however, the university may briefly postpone the University investigation and proceeding while the authorities gather evidence.

Interim Measures. Once a complaint has been reported and until the resolution of the matter, the Responsible Official may take interim measures to ensure safety and non-retaliation for all parties. Examples of interim measures include separation of the parties, no-contact directives, and alternative academic or housing arrangements.

Advisors. In cases of dating and domestic violence, sexual assault or stalking, the Complainant and the Respondent may be advised and accompanied by an advisor of his/her choice during any meeting related to the complaint. The role of the advisor is limited to a support role. The advisor may not participate directly in any meeting or contact the Responsible Official.

Estimated Timeline for Resolution. At the initial meeting with the Complainant, the Responsible Official will explain the informal and formal resolution procedures that are identified below. The university strives to complete resolution of complaints within 60 days from when the university has notice of the grievance. However, during winter breaks and summer sessions, when witnesses may not be available or disciplinary panels cannot be convened, the case is complex, or other comparable situations, the 60-day timeframe may be adjusted to accommodate these circumstances. Where the estimated timeline cannot be adhered to, the Responsible Official will notify the parties and provide an anticipated completion date. The 60-day time frame does not include the time needed for the university to process appeals.

2. STEP TWO (Informal Resolution). The university encourages but does not require informal resolution when possible. The university may elect to bypass the informal procedures because of the severity of the allegation or complexity of the complaint.

Informal Resolution. The goal of informal resolution is to resolve concerns at the earliest stage possible, with the cooperation of all parties involved. Informal resolution may include inquiry into the facts, but typically does not include a formal investigation. These informal efforts may include addressing the Respondent directly; participating in a facilitated meeting with the appropriate university official; or participating in mediation. The informal resolution could include by way of example: separating the parties; referring the parties to counseling; conducting targeted educational and training programs; or providing remedies for the individual harmed by the alleged discrimination. If the matter is resolved informally to the satisfaction of all parties, the Responsible Official shall maintain a record of the complaint and its resolution. If informal resolution is not possible, the university will proceed to Step Three for formal resolution of the complaint.

3. STEP THREE (Formal Resolution). If informal resolution is unsuccessful, or if the university considers informal resolution inappropriate (e.g. when facts are in serious dispute, reports involve a pattern of behavior, or reports allege serious misconduct such as a sexual assault), or if the Complainant prefers a formal procedure, a formal complaint may be filed with the Responsible Official.

Reporting. A written complaint should include a detailed description of the conduct that the reporting party alleges to be discriminatory and supporting documentation (if any); name(s) and contact information of the Respondent; and the name(s) and contact information of witnesses (if any).
Investigation. Depending on the nature of the allegations, the investigation could include interviews with the Complainant, the Respondent and/or witnesses; review of written documentation and relevant policies; and any other steps necessary to thoroughly investigate the allegations. During the investigation, the Complainant and Respondent will have an equal opportunity to identify witnesses and evidence that the Responsible Official may consider. The Responsible Official will use a preponderance of the evidence standard when evaluating the allegations and formulating the outcomes of the investigation and any related disciplinary proceedings. To the extent that a related disciplinary proceeding has a different standard of proof for findings of responsibility, the preponderance of the evidence standard in this policy will be used instead.

Resolution. At the conclusion of the investigation, the Responsible Official will notify simultaneously, in writing, the concerned parties of the outcome of the investigation, including referral to the appropriate disciplinary procedures.

a. Student Respondent. The student disciplinary procedure, including appeal, is outlined in the Student Conduct Code\(^4\). Potential student sanctions include, but are not limited to, a written warning, a ban from specific areas of campus, loss of specific student privileges, community service, transfer or loss of on-campus housing privileges, disciplinary probation, disciplinary suspension, or permanent dismissal. Complainants may elect to file charges through the student disciplinary procedures at any time within one (1) year of the alleged incident.

b. Staff Respondent. Human Resources will take action in accordance with the Staff Personnel Policies Manual Disciplinary Policy. Potential staff sanctions include, but are not limited to, verbal or written warning, mandatory counseling, mandatory training, suspension, and termination. Appeal procedures for termination are outlined in the Staff Personnel Policies Manual Termination Section. Appeal of disciplinary action may be grieved through the Staff Personnel Policies Manual Complaint Policy and Procedure.

c. Faculty Respondent. The Provost’s Office will take action in accordance with the Faculty Manual Disciplinary Procedures. Potential faculty sanctions include, but are not limited to, written warning, mandatory counseling, mandatory training, suspension, and termination. Minor sanctions may be grieved through the Faculty Manual Grievance Procedures. Major sanctions may be appealed through the Faculty Manual Disciplinary Procedures.

V. FALSE OR FRIVOLOUS CHARGES

This policy shall not be used to bring false or frivolous charges against students, faculty, or staff. Those bringing such charges may be subject to disciplinary action.

\(^4\) Complaints against WCL students are referred to the WCL Dean of Student Affairs to be reviewed using the procedures outlined in the WCL Honor Code.
VI. CONFIDENTIALITY & THE UNIVERSITY'S OBLIGATION TO RESPOND TO COMPLAINTS

All parties engaged in the complaint process are expected to maintain confidentiality. Failure to do so may result in disciplinary sanctions. All reports or complaints of discrimination or harassment will be kept confidential, except that individuals with a legitimate need to know will be informed of the complaint in order for the university to respond effectively to each complaint.

In some cases, Complainants may request that their names be kept confidential and that the University take no action on their discrimination report (“confidential reporting”). The relevant Deputy Title IX Officer (in consultation with the Title IX Officer) will evaluate each request and advise the Complainant that “confidential reporting” will limit the university’s ability to respond fully to the matter, including pursuing disciplinary action against the Respondent. Nevertheless, in most instances, the university will honor such confidentiality requests unless to do so will impede its ability to provide a safe and nondiscriminatory environment for all students.

VII. RECORDS

Records of informal and formal complaints will be maintained by the Responsible Official who received and handled the complaint. Complaints against faculty, staff, or students that result in a personnel or disciplinary action will also be a part of the respondent’s personnel or disciplinary record. All records are confidential with access only to individuals with a legitimate need to know. Records of complaints will be kept on file in accordance with the university’s records and retention policy.
