

The Sunrise Quartet

The Sunrise Quartet, founded in 1991, has performed on the East Coast, from Florida to Pennsylvania. The group has been featured on public radio and cable television in the mid-Atlantic area. In December 2002 the Quartet was featured in a one hour TV show "A Musical Bridge to China" broadcast by West Virginia Public Television and Chinese National Television.

The Quartet, based in Washington DC, has performed at the Mozart Festival at the World Bank, the Chautauqua Festival at Dickinson College, the Contemporary American Theater Festival at Shepherd College and the Sonoklect Festival at Washington and Lee University. They have given concerts at the National Building Museum, the Corcoran Museum and the Phillips Collection and have completed a Chamber Music America residency at the Duke Ellington School of the Arts. The Sunrise Quartet is currently in residence at the Concerts at the Beach in Delaware and at the Davies Concert Series.

The Quartet has recorded for the Living Music, Arizona University Recordings, Amcam and AmeriMusic labels. A new collection of Christmas music, which they edited, has been published under the imprint of G. Schirmer, Inc. They have recorded these carols on a CD entitled "A Christmas Sunrise". The Sunrise Quartet has recently performed for National Public Radio's "Performance Today" program. In 2000 they were selected to judge the Washington International Competition for String Quartets.

What the critics say:

"A beautifully organized performance"
—Ronald Braun, The Washington Post

"The performances by the Sunrise Quartet were uniformly excellent"
—Joan Reinthaler, The Washington Post

"Sunrise Quartet: Resplendent"
—Cecelia Porter, The Washington Post

"Washington DC's Sunrise Quartet enraptured a standing room only crowd"
—Dennis Forney, The Cape Gazette, Lewes, DE