INTRODUCTION

The Office of Institutional Research receives many requests for information, both current and historical, about American University. This eleventh edition of the Academic Data Reference Book has been updated and is designed to meet the most frequent requests concerning enrollment, faculty and related activities. In order for readers to interpret and evaluate the information presented here, the following explanatory notes are offered.

STUDENT ENROLLMENT (Tables 1-12)

The official enrollment in the University for Fall 1980 is shown in Table 1 by men and women, fulltime and parttime, and total fulltime equivalency. The fulltime equivalency of parttime students is based on the average load of fulltime students on the same degree objective level.

Student enrollments by major field are shown in two ways: the fulltime undergraduates by class (Table 5) and all students by degree objective level and by fulltime and parttime enrollment (Table 6). In using these two tables, take into consideration that many undergraduate students have not officially declared a major but unofficially may be pursuing a definite program, resulting in an understatement of enrollments in many major fields.

Tables 7 and 8 give the distribution of students by permanent residence. Since many foreign students have given a U.S. address as their residence, the figures for "Foreign" cannot be taken as the foreign student enrollment. That figure will be found in Table 9.

Due to the varying dates of the source materials used in compiling the information in the enrollment tables, there will be some differences in comparable totals. Much of the discrepancy is the result of graduate students registering throughout the semester for "Maintain Matriculation."

ENTERING DEGREE STUDENTS (Tables 13-22)

Tables in this section provide information on newly admitted freshmen, transfer, and graduate students. Admissions statistics were obtained from lists provided by the Office of Admissions. Both undergraduate and graduate application and admission figures include the preceding Summer session as well as the fall semester. Graduate figures include, in addition, the preceding Spring semester applications and admissions. All enrollment information in these tables pertains to Fall semester, including Summer students (and Spring graduate students) who returned for the Fall semester.

The freshman class profiles are based on the traditional measures of the qualifications of entering students, namely: the index on the secondary school academic units completed, the rank in the secondary school graduating class, the scores on the College Entrance Examination Board Scholastic Aptitude Verbal and Mathematical Tests.

RETENTION OF ENTERING CLASSES (Tables 23-25)

Table 25, Composition of Graduating Classes, shows the relationship between non-transfer and transfer students. Non-transfer students include freshmen used in the Freshman Class Profile, entering parttime freshmen, and those non-degree students who entered the American University with no prior college work and who were later admitted to an undergraduate degree program. Figures include both fulltime and parttime students.

DEGREES CONFERRED (Table 26)

This table gives the number of bachelor's, master's, doctoral and law degrees conferred for each major by the various colleges and schools in each of the past five years. Additions or deletions which have been made in the degree programs and majors offered need to be taken into consideration in the use of this data. The figures given for the number of degrees awarded each year include the preceding summer and fall graduates as well as the spring graduating class.

This table is presented in terms of degrees awarded. As a result of double majors and interdisciplinary majors, many of the totals will show "half" degrees.

Degrees awarded to both on-campus and off-campus students are included in this table.

COURSE ENROLLMENT (Tables 27-29)

Table 27 shows the Fall and Spring, 1979-80 course enrollment distribution of students by student major. Teaching units are listed across the top of the table and the general student major categories vertically on the left. The underlined figure in each column is the number of course enrollments by students majoring in fields in that teaching unit. Enrollments in Interdisciplinary courses have not been distributed to the various teaching units but appear as separate items. Please note that these figures are course enrollments, not credit hours.

In Table 28, Average Class Size by Level, only the lecture portion of the lecture-discussion or lecture-laboratory section was used. Exclusions from the average class size are listed in a footnote on the Table itself.

In cases where two course numbers were used to identify a single course, the class (with its total enrollment) was included in the department and at the level of the larger enrollment.

FACULTY (Tables 30-36)

Faculty statistics were compiled from data in the Office of Faculty Affairs as of October, 1980.

The definition of fulltime teaching faculty (as reported in Tables 30-32) is that used by the American Association of University Professors. These figures exclude University and College/School administrative personnel, faculty with one semester contracts, and those with less than one-half teaching responsibilities. Faculty on sabbatical leave are included. To eliminate duplication, faculty members with joint appointments are included in their base department only. Thus, the number of teaching faculty shown in these tables may not coincide with the number of faculty associated with a given teaching unit.

Table 33 shows the number of individuals holding faculty rank who were not included in the teaching faculty as defined above.

A more accurate indication of the fulltime teaching resources of each instructional unit may be found in Table 35, "Faculty Load, 1979-80" and the five year summary table (Table 36) containing a condensed version of the same information.

The total number of individual faculty members teaching is shown in the first column of Table 35. The second column, "FTE", is the sum of the regular and fractional appointments in a given teaching unit, including any proportion of teaching time by a faculty member whose appointment is in another teaching unit or who holds an administrative appointment. Sabbatical leave time is excluded. The figures in this column are based on the actual teaching effort rather than on the number of individuals.

The parttime faculty figures include parttime appointments, the graduate assistants who have responsibility for specific classes, faculty overloads, emeritus faculty, and staff members who teach. The column "% Fac" shows the actual number of individuals teaching during the academic year. The next column, "% Fac-Yr. Eq." equates the individuals to an academic year base. The parttime faculty has been converted to fulltime equivalency (# FTE Fac) on the basis of the credit hours taught. Eighteen credit hours per academic year was used as the standard fulltime load in making this conversion. The total FTE faculty is the sum of the fulltime effort and the equated parttime effort.

If courses have two or more identifying course numbers, all departments involved have been given a proportion of these courses. This distribution is reflected in all columns in the tables.

Anyone wishing additional or more detailed information on tables appearing in this publication should contact the Office of Institutional Research.

The above figures include scheduled courses, practice teaching, laboratory only courses, independent study courses, individual music lessons, Thesis and Dissertation Seminars, etc.

Interdisciplinary and Liberal Studies courses were distributed to the teaching units for which the cost was assigned.

"Eq Sch" (Equated Student Credit Hours) are the undergraduate course units, used prior to 1978-79, converted to the credit hour system. One course unit equals 3.75 credit hours.
