

41st Washington Asia Forum

Asia Council of American University

Does a Security Order Exist in Asia?

Dr. Muthiah Alagappa
Director, East-West Center Washington

Friday
November 22 , 2002

12:00-1:30p.m.

Butler Conference Room
(6th floor Butler Pavilion)

Dr. Alagappa is currently director, East-West Center Washington and has held various appointments at the Center including Director of Studies. Previously he was a visiting professor at Columbia University and Stanford University. His research interests include international politics and security in the Asia Pacific region, regional institutions, and domestic political change in Asia. He has published several books and articles on the international and domestic politics of Asia. His publications include Asia Security Order: Instrumental and Normative Features (forthcoming) and Coercion and Governance: the Declining Political Role of the Military in Asia. Dr. Alagappa earned a Ph. D. in international affairs from the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy at Tufts University.

For further information, contact Acting Asia Council Chair Professor Pek Koon Heng (202-885-1688) or Aria Bailey (202-885-1760)

