

67th Washington Asia Forum

Center for Asian Studies of American University

“Japan Enters Iraq – A New Role for Japan’s Self Defense Force?”

Chiyuki Aoi

United Nations University, Japan

Thursday

March 25, 2004

4:30 pm

Butler Conference Room

Chiyuki Aoi is currently Academic Program Officer at the United Nations University in Tokyo. She was educated at Sophia University (Japan), Massachusetts Institute of Technology, and Columbia University, where she received her PhD in Political Science. Her specialization is in international relations. Prior to joining the UNU, she worked as a Junior Professional Officer at the Center for Documentation and Research in the office of the UN High Commissioner for Refugees in Geneva from 1991 to 1992, and from 1995 to 1997 she was a Program Associate at the United Nations University. This coming April, she will join the Aoyama Gakuin University in Tokyo as Associate Professor of International Politics.

For further information, contact the Director of the Center for Asian Studies, Professor Quansheng Zhao or Aria Bailey (202-885-1760)