

International Peace and Conflict Resolution (IPCR) Masters Program

CANDIDATE ACADEMIC PLAN (CAP)

NAME:

STUDENT ID:

1. PART A: INTENDED CONCENTRATION

Please select ONE intended area of concentration: Select

-OR-

Select a Related Field: Select

-OR-

Self-Designed Concentration with Faculty Advisor approval:

PART B: DESCRIPTION

Please provide a 2-4 sentence description for your intended concentration that shows the link between your concentration (#1 Part A above and your elective courses listed in #2 below).

2. ACADEMIC PLAN

A. List the elective courses you have taken, are taking and plan to take as of now for your intended concentration* in the substantive area you have identified above (12 credit hours total, not including IPCR core courses, methodology requirement, economics course, and research requirement):

TITLE OF COURSE AND COURSE #	# OF CREDITS	SEMESTER (planned or completed)
	Select
	Select Select Select Select
	Select

B. I plan to write: Select

Provide below 2-3 sentences that describe your probable SRP or thesis topic area(s) (as of now).

* Please remember that you may select relevant graduate courses from other fields (CRS, GEP, ID, IER, IP, IC, USFP) in SIS and from around the University. See the IPCR Areas of Concentration Listing for more info. *

- C. In addition to SIS 600 Quantitative Analysis (required), what other course(s) do you plan to take to fulfill the six-credit methods requirement? (Choose one):

Semester:

-OR-

Other approved course (please identify by Course name and number):

Course:

Semester:

- D. Indicate how you will fulfill the 3 credit Economics Requirement:

Select

Other:

Semester:

- E. List the modern foreign language you intend to use to fulfill the language requirement and tell how you plan to fulfill the requirement, e.g., Tool of Research Exam, coursework, etc:

Language:

How:

When (Semester):

3. RELEVANCE TO CAREER

Provide 2-3 sentences that describe how your concentration coursework (as outlined in 2A) relates to your career progression and/or learning objectives:

This form must be filed with the SIS Graduate Advising Office prior to the start of your third academic semester of study. You may change your CAP and replace it with a new one at any time up until the completion of your degree.

If you have questions about how courses might fit within your intended concentration, you are encouraged to meet with IPCR faculty who have related interests. For a list of IPCR and other faculty associated with the program, please see the IPCR SRP guidelines, which can be found on the IPCR website.

Student Signature

Date

Faculty Signature
(as applicable)

Date

Date Received in Graduate Advising Office _____