

Want to join the entrepreneurship Revolution?

1776 is a platform to reinvent the world by connecting the hottest startups with the resources they need to excel. From our Campus a few blocks from the White House, 1776 serves as a global hub for startups tackling major challenges in education, energy, health care, government, and other critical industries. 1776 startups receive mentorship, corporate connections, access to capital, media attention, and a pipeline of top talent—the raw materials critical for innovators to succeed. We're excited to announce that through the School of Communication, Kogod School of Business, and the Social Enterprise Program at the School of International Service, American University has partnered with 1776 as a University Partner! Through this partnership, AU students will have access to a variety of resources, including access to University Programming such as group workshops, seminars and member-only events. Check out the full list of resources below!

Community Events

At 1776, we hold community events focused on entrepreneurship each week that cover a wide spectrum of topics and formats. One night, we might be hosting a fireside chat with a successful entrepreneur and another we could be throwing a startup launch party! All 1776 events relate to our greater goals of promoting the startup community and enabling entrepreneurs to innovate in regulated industries. Community events are open to the general public, and American University students are encouraged to attend. Our full list can be found at <http://1776dc.com/events>.

(Access open to general public)

University Programming

1776 will provide AU students in the School of Communication, Kogod School of Business, and the Social Enterprise Program at the School of International Service with access to University Programming at the 1776 Campus. University Programming is made up of workshops, group mentor sessions, seminars, and more, all geared toward helping startups grow. Each week, 1776 will send University Programming opportunities open to AU students. Note, only those 21+ are permitted to consume alcohol during University Programming and 1776 reserves the right to check all attendee identification.

(Access open to AU students at SOC, Kogod, and the Social Enterprise Program at SIS)

Discounted Nights & Weekends Memberships

Through American University's partnership, all AU students have access to a 15% discount on all Nights & Weekends memberships at 1776. Nights & Weekends membership offers qualifying startups access to coworking, access to our full slate of Campus Programming, and free access to all 1776 events. For specific information on our Nights & Weekends membership, visit <http://1776dc.com/membership>. In order to qualify for a membership, AU students should visit the 1776 application found on our website.

(Access open to accepted membership applications. Acceptance not guaranteed.)

AU students will also have access to 1776 for certain class visits and tours as arranged by the faculty.
