

Bibliography of announcements and executive orders on lobbying and ethics rules from Norm Eisen's office.

1. Eisen, Norm. "Why We Closed the Revolving Door." The White House Blog. 28 October, 2009. (www.whitehouse.gov/blog/2009/10/28/why-we-closed-revolving-door).

Reaction to the American League of Lobbyists coming out against the Administration's stance on limiting lobbyists in government service and from serving on boards.

2. Eisen, Norm. "Transparency like you've never seen before." The White House Blog. 30 October 2009. (<http://www.whitehouse.gov/blog/2009/10/30/transparency-you%E2%80%99ve-never-seen-0>).

Summarizes new voluntary disclosure policy and the processing of documents

3. Obama, Barack. "Federal Leadership in Environmental, Energy, and Economic Performance." Executive Order (13514) of October 5, 2009. <http://www.whitehouse.gov/assets/documents/2009fedleader\_eo\_rel.pdf>.

Leading by example, by launch of the GreenGov Initiative.

4. Eisen, Norm. "A Washington that is More Reflective of All of America." The White House Blog. 9 November, 2009. (<http://www.whitehouse.gov/blog/2009/11/09/a-washington-that-is-more-reflective-of-all-of-america>)

Summarized meeting held with the group of lobbyists and others who currently chair Industry Trade Advisory Committees (ITACs). The group opposes the Administrations changes to lobbying and disclosure rules.

5. Noveck, Beth. "Open Government Laboratories of Democracy" 20 November 2009. (<http://www.whitehouse.gov/blog/2009/11/19/open-government-laboratories-democracy>).

Beth Noveck, Deputy Chief Technology Officer for Open Government writes about the call for open government and the states that are following the example of the Administration.

6. Eisen, Norm. "How We Have "Already Changed" Washington." 4 December 2009. The White House Blog. (<http://www.whitehouse.gov/blog/2009/12/04/how-we-have-already-changed-washington>).

Describes the CRS report that concludes Obama's reforms have "already changed the relationship between lobbyists and covered executive branch officials." Also includes new tools for job seekers and developers

7. Orsag, Peter. "Open Government Directive." 8 December, 2009. Executive Office of the President; Office of Management and Budget.
http://www.whitehouse.gov/omb/assets/memoranda\_2010/m10-06.pdf

States that "accountability and accessibility at the center of how the federal government operates and it aims to instill the values of transparency, participation, and collaboration into the culture of every agency by requiring every agency to formulate an Open Government Plan and website."

8. Eisen, Norm and Noveck, Beth. "Why Open Government Matters." The White House Blog. 9 December, 2009. (<http://www.whitehouse.gov/blog/2009/12/09/why-open-government-matters>).

Discussion of some of the 20 new open government initiatives launched this past week.

9. Eisen, Norm. "Restoring Emails and Restoring Openness." The White House Blog. 14 December, 2009. (<http://www.whitehouse.gov/blog/2009/12/14/restoring-emails-and-restoring-openness>).

"White House will restore millions of emails from back-up tapes related to at least 33 different days during the Bush Administration. The millions of restored emails will be transferred to the National Archives. They eventually will be made available to historians, students, and the general public under laws providing for the release of such documents from prior administrations."

10. Obama, Barack. "Classified National Security Information." Executive Order (13626) of December 29, 2009. <<http://www.whitehouse.gov/the-press-office/executive-order-classified-national-security-information>>.

"Prescribes a uniform system for classifying, safeguarding, and declassifying national security information, including information relating to defense against transnational terrorism."

11. Leahry, William H. "Promoting Openness and Accountability by Making Classification a Two-Way Street". The White House Blog. 29 December, 2009. (<http://www.whitehouse.gov/blog/2009/12/28/promoting-openness-and-accountability-making-classification-a-two-way-street>)

Outlines the Executive Order issued regarding classified information and how it differs from Executive Orders issued by Presidents Bush and Clinton.

12. Eisen, Norm. "More than 25,000 Additional White House Visitor Records Posted Online." The White House Blog. 30 December, 2009. (<http://www.whitehouse.gov/blog/2009/12/30/more-25000-additional-white-house-visitor-records-posted-online>).

Further explains the "unprecedented voluntary disclosure policy" and provides the latest round of White House visitor records.

13. Eisen, Norm. "'Very High Grades' for Change." The White House Blog. 11 January, 2010. (<http://www.whitehouse.gov/blog/2010/01/11/very-high-grades-change>).

Discusses the high remarks the Obama Administration just received from a number of government reform groups for its government reform work this past year.

14. Lee, Jesse. "Where We've Been, Where We Are, Where We're Headed." The White House Blog. 11 January, 2010. (<http://www.whitehouse.gov/blog/2010/01/11/where-weve-been-where-we-arewhere-were-headed>)

Post is by White House Online Programs Director, Jesse Lee, and lists several webchats the Administration hosted during the week.

15. Obama, Barack. "Statement by the President on Today's Supreme Court decision in Citizens United v F.E.C." The White House; Office of the Press Secretary.

"With its ruling today, the Supreme Court has given a green light to a new stampede of special interest money in our politics..."

16. Obama, Barack. "Weekly Address: President Obama Vows to Continue Standing Up to the Special Interests on Behalf of the American People." 23 January, 2010. The audio and video will be available online at www.whitehouse.gov at 6:00 am ET, Saturday, January 23, 2010

Address is about standing up to special interests.

17. Eisen, Norm. "Another Milestone In Making Government More Accessible and Accountable." The White House Blog. 24 January, 2010. (<http://www.whitehouse.gov/blog/2010/01/22/another-milestone-making-government-more-accessible-and-accountable>).

Posts related to the "high-value datasets released by federal agencies on Friday as part of the Open Government Directive."

18. Eisen, Norm. "Transparency: The Tale of the Tape." The White House Blog. 27 January, 2010. (<http://www.whitehouse.gov/blog/2010/01/27/transparency-tale-tape>)

Blog post expressing disagreement with the Washington Post's story Obama and his efforts for transparency.

19. Eisen, Norm. "Lobbyists Rush to Hold the Floodgates Open." The White House Blog. 2 February 2010. (<http://www.whitehouse.gov/blog/2010/01/31/lobbyists-rush-hold-floodgates-open>).

Post discussing the Citizens United Case and the effect it will have on lobbying.

20. Eisen, Norm. "White House Visitor Records Posted Online." The White House Blog. 29 January, 2010. (<http://www.whitehouse.gov/blog/2010/01/29/75000-white-house-visitor-recordsposted-online>).

Highlights the release of another round of White House Visitor Records.

21. Kundra, Vivek & Chopra, Aneesh. "Two New Groups Dedicated to Open Government." The White House Blog. 5 February, 2010. (<http://www.whitehouse.gov/blog/2010/02/05/two-new-groups-dedicated-open-government>).

The White House Chief Information Officer and Chief Technology Officer respectively write about issues relate to transparency and the Open Government Directive.

22. Eisen, Norm. "More Praise on Transparency from the Experts." The White House Blog. 5 February, 2010. (<http://www.whitehouse.gov/blog/2010/02/05/more-praise-transparency-experts>)

Posts related to transparency and the Open Government Directive.

23. Tchen, Tina. "Make Your Voice Heard." The White House Blog. 23 February, 2010. (<http://www.whitehouse.gov/blog/2010/02/23/make-your-voice-heard>)

Tina Tchen, the White House Director for the Office of Public Engagement, encouraging the public to provide feedback on each agency's open government plan.

24. Eisen, Norm. "Sunshine Over Washington, D.C." The White House Blog. 16, March , 2010. (<http://www.whitehouse.gov/blog/2010/03/15/sunshine-over-washington-dc>).

Highlights Sunshine Week in Washington and references efforts made by the Administration to bring more transparency to the Federal Government.

25. Sharfstein, Joshua, and Asamoah, Afia. "Opening up FDA." The White House Blog. 19 March, 2010. (<http://www.whitehouse.gov/blog/2010/03/19/opening-fda>).

Joshua Sharfstein is Principal Deputy Commissioner at FDA and Chair of the Transparency Task Force. Afia Asamoah is a Special Assistant in the Office of the Commissioner and coordinator of the Transparency Initiative. Here they write on special efforts to bring transparency back to the FDA.

26. Eisen, Norm. "Openness about Openness." Center for American Progress. Washington D.C. 19, March 2010

Remarks on FOIA Compliance.

27. Eisen, Norm. "More Than 250,000 White House Visitor Records Now Online." The White House Blog. 26 March, 2010. (<http://www.whitehouse.gov/blog/2010/03/26/more-than-250000-white-house-visitor-records-now-online>).

Update on number of White House Visitor's records available online.