

2. International Development

This concentration serves students interested in gaining an appreciation for the challenges facing policymakers and analysts working on global issues and those affecting the developing world. Faculty advising for this concentration is provided by Professors Tamara Hafner, Daniel Mullins, and Jeremy Shiffman.

Suggested Courses/Recent Offerings:

- PUAD 608 Comparative Administrative Systems (3)
- PUAD 613 Global Governance & Public Policy (3)
- PUAD 614 Development Management (3)
- PUAD 633 Budgeting & Financial Management (3)
- PUAD 685 Public Finance in Developing Countries (3)
- PUAD 696 Global Health Policy (3)
- PUAD 696 Contemporary Issues in Global Development Policy (3)
- SIS 636 Micropolitics of Development (3)
- SIS 637 International Development (3)
- SIS 638 Selected Topics in International Development Skills (1)
- SIS 649 Environment and Development (3)
- ECON 634 Development Finance and Banking (3)
- ECON 662 Development Microeconomics (3)

Other options include courses from the School of International Service, the Department of Economics, and other departments in the School of Public Affairs.