PRE-ARRIVAL GUIDE FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

WELCOME TO AMERICAN UNIVERSITY

We are delighted that you will be joining our global university and look forward to welcoming you into our community, which includes more than 1,500 international students and scholars from more than 140 countries.

We have designed this Pre-Arrival Guide to help you obtain your student visa and prepare you for your arrival in the United States, in Washington, DC, and at American University. Enclosed is your official US immigration document (I-20 or DS-2019) which you may use to obtain your F-1 or J-1 visa at the US embassy or consulate.

Please review this guide and let us know what questions we can answer as you prepare to join the American University community.

We are looking forward to meeting you soon.

>> STEP 1: PAY MANDATORY SEVIS FEE

The SEVIS fee is a mandatory government fee that must be paid by students and exchange visitors before applying for an F-1 or J-1 visa. You may pay the fee after you have received your I-20 or DS-2019 from American University. The fee can be paid by credit card, US check, money order, foreign draft by mail, or Western Union. Please refer to the ISSS website, american.edu/ocl/iss/SEVIS-Fee.cfm and the SEVIS fee payment page fmjfee.com for detailed instructions on paying the fee. Print the payment confirmation and staple it to your I-20 or DS-2019.

Students Transferring Immigration Status from a US Institution to American University. Please check the following website to see if you need to pay the SEVIS fee at ice.gov/sevis/i901/faq3.htm.

>> STEP 2: APPLY FOR AN F-1 OR J-1 VISA

Pre-Departure Information and Visa Guidance. For information on upcoming pre-departure and visa guidance sessions in your home country, please contact the nearest US embassy, US consulate, or public affairs office for referral to an EducationUSA educational advising center near you: educationusa.state.gov/.

Students Transferring Immigration Status from a US Institution. A valid F-1 or J-1 visa from your previous school can be used with your new American University I-20 or DS-2019. However, if you have had a break in study or been outside the US for five months or more, your visa is no longer valid even if the date of expiration has not yet passed.

Request for a Deferral or Postponement to Begin in a Later Semester. If you will not enroll at American University for the semester you were admitted and wish to defer your admission:

- Contact the admissions office of your school or department in writing (email or letter) to request a deferral.
- Return the I-20 or DS-2019 form to ISSS. Failure to do so will result in future I-20 or DS-2019 forms not being issued.

Students from Canada. If you are a citizen of Canada, you do not need a visa; however, you will need to show the SEVIS payment receipt, financial documents, passport, and a valid I-20 or DS-2019 document at the US border to be admitted to the US as an F-1 or J-1 student.

Visa Application Process. Please see the US embassy website for your country (usembassy.gov) to see if additional documents are required and schedule your visa appointment. If you do not have a valid F-1 or J-1 visa in your passport, you need to take the following documents to your visa appointment at the US embassy or consulate:

- current financial documents issued within the past 3 months
- I-20 or DS-2019 from American University
- passport
- university admission letter
- SEVIS fee payment receipt

Visas are given at the discretion of the issuing officer at the consulate. American University cannot intervene in the consulate's decision. See the "Guidance for Your Visa Interview" section below and travel.state.gov/content/visas/english/study-exchange.html.

DO NOT enter the United States on a B-2 tourist visa or visa waiver. These visas are not acceptable for the purpose of full-time studies in the United States.

Guidance for Your Visa Interview. Please consider the suggestions below for your visa interview. We also recommend that you contact the EducationUSA educational advising center in your region (educationusa.state.gov/), where you can get more guidance to help you prepare for your visa interview.

- Ties to Home Country. Under US law, all applicants for non-immigrant visas are viewed as intending immigrants (planning to immigrate to the United States) until they can convince the consular officer that they are not. You must be able to show that you have reasons for returning to your home country that are stronger than those for remaining in the United States. "Ties" to your home country are the things that bind you to your hometown, homeland or current place of residence: job, family, financial prospects that you own or will inherit, investments, etc.

- English. Anticipate that the interview will be conducted in English and not in your native language.
- Speak for Yourself. Do not bring parents or family members with you to the interview. The consular officer wants to interview you, not your family. Only dependents who are applying for F-2 or J-2 visas should accompany you.
- Know the Program and How It Fits Your Career Plans. If you are not able to articulate the reasons why you will study in a particular program in the United States, you may not succeed in convincing the consular officer that you are indeed planning to study, rather than to immigrate. You should also be able to explain how studying in the United States relates to your future professional career when you return home.
- Be Brief. Because of the volume of applications received, all consular officers are under considerable time pressure to conduct a quick and efficient interview. They must make a decision, for the most part, on the impressions they form during the first minute or two of the interview. Consequently, what you say first and the initial impression you create are critical to your success. Keep your answers to the officer's questions short and to the point.
- Documentation. It should be clear at a glance to the consular officer what written documents you are presenting and what they signify. Lengthy written explanations cannot be quickly read or evaluated. Remember that you will have 2–3 minutes of interview time, if you are lucky.
- Employment. Your main purpose for coming to the United States should be to study, not for the chance to work before or after graduation. While many students do work with authorization during their studies, such employment is secondary to their main purpose of completing their US education. You must be able to clearly articulate your plan to return home at the end of your program. If your spouse is also applying for an accompanying F-2 visa, be aware that F-2 dependents cannot, under any circumstances, be employed in the United States. If asked, be prepared to address what your spouse intends to do with his or her time while in the United States.

(Adapted from NAFSA: Association of International Educators)

In Case of Visa Denial. Do not engage the consular officer in an argument. If you are denied a student visa, ask the officer for a list of documents he or she would suggest you bring in order to overcome the refusal, and ask for the reason you were denied in writing. If you would like to postpone your study to a future semester, please see the information about deferral at the beginning of this section.

If you decide not to enroll at American University, please notify ISSS and your admissions office via email immediately.

>> STEP 3: ACTIVATE YOUR MYAU.AMERICAN.EDU ACCOUNT AND REGULARLY CHECK YOUR NEW AMERICAN.EDU EMAIL ACCOUNT

American University's web portal, myau.american.edu, allows you to gain web access to your email and to other important services and information.

It's very important that you activate your myau.american.edu portal before attending orientation since you'll be receiving important communication from the university at your new American University email address, accessible through myau.american.edu. You'll also be using the portal to check your grades, register for classes, and update your immigration information.

Activating your portal account is easy. Please follow these simple instructions:

1. Go to myau.american.edu.
2. Click on "Create Your Account," then on "I am a Student."
3. Follow the instructions to create your account. You'll be prompted to enter the seven-digit American University ID number that you received with your admittance letter from the Admissions Office.
4. Complete the quick tutorial to learn about the benefits of using the portal.
5. Access your american.edu email account by logging in to myau.american.edu, then clicking the "Email" link in the top right corner of the screen. Enter the same user name and log-in again.

If you're having trouble activating your account or logging on to the portal, or if you have forgotten your password, contact the Help Desk at +1-202-885-2550 or via email at helpdesk@american.edu or via chat: american.edu/oit/.

>> STEP 4: CHOOSE YOUR CLASSES AND COMPLETE THE CLASS REGISTRATION PROCESS

Contact your academic advisor in your department for information about the course registration process. Your academic advisor will provide you with information, and it is your responsibility to choose your classes and complete the class registration process. It is important that you complete this process as early as possible, before the classes you would like to enroll in are filled. To access the academic advisor list, please visit american.edu/provost/registrar/courses/advisorylist.cfm.

>> STEP 5: REGISTER FOR ORIENTATION

American University provides an extensive orientation program for new students beginning the week before classes start to help make your transition to the university as smooth as possible. Please register as soon as possible to reserve your space in your orientation program.

During the orientation program, you will have the following opportunities:

- Learn about academic requirements, procedures, and academic support for international students at the university.
- Understand your immigration responsibilities and procedures.
- Meet faculty and staff at the university.
- Meet other new and returning students.
- Get to know the campus.

International Student Orientation is offered for all students, including transfer students, in the following programs: undergraduate, graduate, Washington Semester, Abroad at AU, and Washington College of Law. Additional information, including orientation program dates and registration information, can be found on the ISSS website, american.edu/ocl/iss/orientation.cfm.

English Assessment Test

All non-native speakers of English are strongly encouraged to take the university's English assessment test during international student orientation week, which allows the university to support you better in your studies. For more information, please see american.edu/ocl/iss/English-Assessment-Test.cfm.

>> STEP 6: COMPLETE HEALTH INSURANCE AND IMMUNIZATION REQUIREMENTS

Health Insurance Requirement. Excellent health care services are available in the United States, but the health system can be complicated and expensive, so it is important that all visitors have adequate health insurance coverage. All students are enrolled automatically and required to have American University health insurance unless proof of adequate private health insurance is given. If you do not want university health insurance, you must fill out the waiver. For more information or to waive the university insurance, please visit the Student Health Center website at american.edu/ocl/healthcenter/Health-Insurance-Waiver-Information.cfm or contact them at +1-202-885-3201.

Note: There is an annual deadline to waive university health insurance. After this date, students will automatically be charged for this insurance.

If the American University health insurance is not waived, an insurance card will be issued as proof of insurance. This card must be shown to receive medical care and have prescriptions filled. A new card is issued each year.

Students covered by American University health insurance are allowed to see doctors outside the Student Health Center with a written referral. Referrals are issued by the Student Health Center.

Generally, a small fee is required for any medical visits and prescription medicines. To find more detailed information about your policy and costs involved, please visit american.edu/ocl/healthcenter/About-Student-Health-Insurance-Plan.cfm. Student health insurance does not cover dental or eye care.

Immunizations. Students under the age of 26 must show proof of immunizations upon arrival at American University. Immunization forms can be printed from the website below. Immunization records must be in English or accompanied by an English translation. Visit the Health Center website for more information at american.edu/ocl/healthcenter/Immunization-FAQs.cfm.

Dental Care, Eye Exams, and Medications. As medical care in the United States is private and expensive, it is recommended that students have updated dental, eye, and medical exams and get a supply of any medicines before arriving in the United States.

Resources to Help You Stay Healthy. An important part of succeeding as a student is taking good care of yourself and maintaining your health while you are in the United States. There are a number of facilities and offices on campus that are here to help you stay healthy. The American University Student Health Center provides primary care medical services, and our Wellness Center provides health education and programming for students. Every university student is a member of the campus fitness facilities including state-of-the-art fitness equipment, a swimming pool, two gyms, and sports fields. Students are encouraged to take advantage of the exercise classes offered through the fitness center, and many join intramural student sports teams on campus. Additionally, there are many on-campus dining facilities offering a wide variety of healthy food options.

“EVERYONE WAS FRIENDLY AND HELPFUL AT ORIENTATION!”

of international students were more confident about their decision to come to American University after attending orientation.

98%

of participants recommend orientation for new students.

>> STEP 7: PREPARE YOUR FINANCES

Budget. If you have not been awarded an American University scholarship at the time of admission, please be advised that you should not expect to receive any financial aid from American University.

There are many sources outside the university for financial assistance. Please see the ISSS website at american.edu/ocl/iss/Financial-Aid-and-Scholarships-for-International-Students.cfm for additional non-university funding sources.

Below is a worksheet that can help to estimate the costs for all the years of study at American University. Please estimate a 5%–7% increase in total expenses for each additional year of study. PhD students may estimate up to 7 years. Please note that you may be eligible for part time on-campus employment. However, in budgeting, please be aware that these potential additional earnings would only cover a minor part of your overall expenses.

*For estimated costs, please refer to the American University Cost Guide for your program of study at american.edu/ocl/iss/Student-Cost-Guide.cfm Tuition Payment. The tuition payment deadline is generally one month before the first day of classes. For payment information, please visit the Student Accounts website at american.edu/finance/studentaccounts/index.cfm.

Payments can be made using wire transfers, cash, check and credit card.

Wire Transfer Payments. American University accepts wire transfers for student payments. Please contact AU Central directly at +1-202-885-8000 for more information. Be advised that wire transfer information can only be released to students.

Online Payment. Payments to your student account are accepted online through the Eagle Finance link. This payment option is available on the myAU Portal. Please note: For credit card payments, a non-refundable service fee (2.25% of the charge amount) will be charged to your credit card account when making credit card payments applied to your student account bill. Service Fees are not charged for enrollment deposits (tuition deposits and housing deposits).

Payment Plans. American University offers several options for monthly tuition payments plans at american.edu/finance/studentaccounts/Payment-Plan-Overview.cfm.

Tuition Refund Plan. The university has arranged a tuition refund plan for students and parents. This private insurance program enhances American University's published refund policy, helping minimize financial losses should students suffer serious illness or an accident that results in withdrawal from AU before the semester is completed. The insurance plan is elective and covers 75% of tuition and room charges.

For more information please check: american.edu/ocl/healthcenter/Tuition-Refund-Plan.cfm.

Travel and Settling-in Costs. As a student coming in F-1 or J-1 status, you have demonstrated to the US government that you can finance your education without working in the United States. Before you leave, you should determine how much money you will need for the first few weeks of your stay on campus. It may take a couple of weeks to open a bank account and receive funds from your home country bank, this will be money you will need to carry with you. It may be safest to carry it in the form of traveler's checks.

You will likely need funds to pay your first semester tuition, fees, and room and board, if you will live on campus. If you plan to live off campus, you will need funds for an apartment (often including the first month's rental expenses plus a deposit) and, possibly, utility deposits, living expenses, and transportation. You also will have expenses for books, school supplies, and fees. Please plan to have funds available when you arrive (in traveler's checks or other types of funds) to cover these and other miscellaneous initial expenses and to provide for emergencies until the transfer of other funds occurs.

For personal use during your travel and after your arrival in the United States—for taxis, meals, and telephone calls—you should have US dollars in small cash denominations: $20, $10, $5, $1. You can change US paper money into smaller denominations and coins at almost any store. However, small stores and vendors may have difficulty changing bills larger than $20. Do not carry large amounts of cash as it can be lost or stolen.

In some cases, you can use your automatic teller card from your home country in US automatic teller machines (ATMs). Inquire with your home bank on the validity of your card in the United States. This could save you the worry of carrying large sums of money in cash or traveler's checks. Note: Many banks limit the amount of cash you can withdraw from an ATM on a daily basis.

If you have a US bank account, you can wire (i.e; transfer) money to your bank account in the United States from a bank account overseas. The money is available as soon as the US bank receives it, but it may take up to a week for the home country bank to send the transfer. You should verify the cost of transferring funds with your bank, as it may differ from one bank to another.

If you want to wire money:

- Contact your bank or a wire service and request that your money be sent to the main branch of your bank.
- Instruct the main branch to send the money to your local branch.
- Instruct the bank to “Pay upon Proper Identification” and give your name as the recipient.
- Collect your money at the bank with proper identification after your arrival.

A number of banks are located near the American University campus. On campus is a branch of Capital One Bank: capitalone.com (note that it is not affiliated with the university). Many banks will cash up to $500 worth of traveler's checks if you do not have an account there. There may be a charge for this service. Cashing foreign checks usually takes 5–7 business days, and you must first open an account with the bank. Most international students open a US bank account when they arrive. You must have your passport to open an account. For more information, please contact the bank directly.

Social Security Numbers for Employment and Merit Awards. F-1 and university-sponsored J-1 students are eligible to work up to 20 hours per week on campus during the school year. Only students authorized to work are eligible for Social Security numbers. Students receiving university graduate merit awards with a work component are also considered to be working on campus and will need Social Security cards to be paid.

To apply for a Social Security card, you will need a passport that is more than one year old. If your passport is less than one year old, you will be required to show an original birth certificate, national identity card, or driver's license. It may take up to three months before you receive your Social Security card, but you can begin working after you apply. For more information about applying for a Social Security number, please see socialsecurity.gov/pubs/EN-05-10107.pdf and ice.gov/doclib/sevis/pdf/bm1112-05-dmv-timing.pdf. ISSS will assist you with the Social Security number application process after you report to the university.

>> STEP 8: PLAN FOR HOUSING

One of the most important things you will have to take care of before you start your studies in the United States is finding a place to live. This is an important decision since it will be one of your biggest expenses and will affect your personal and academic adjustment.

On-campus Housing. For undergraduate students interested in living on campus, please see the Housing and Dining website at american.edu/ocl/iss/Housing.cfm.

Housing and Dining can be contacted by phone at +1-202-885-3370 or email at housinganddiningprograms@american.edu.

Off-campus Housing. For an extensive list of Washington, DC, area off-campus housing options, including roommates, group houses, apartments, and more, please visit the Off Campus Housing Resources website at american.edu/ocl/housing/offcampusresources.cfm.

Temporary Housing. Information about temporary housing, including youth hostels and hotels, for students who plan to live off campus and need a place to stay while searching for housing can be found at american.edu/ocl/iss/Housing.cfm.

Please note that neither American University nor ISSS endorses or screens any of the off-campus housing options.

>> STEP 9: PREPARE FOR TRAVEL TO THE UNITED STATES

American University expects you to report to school in time for orientation.

You are allowed to enter the United States no more than 30 days before the reporting date listed on the I-20 (section 5) or DS-2019 (section 3). You will not be able to enter the United States after the start date listed on your I-20 (section 5) or DS-2019 (section 3). If you are facing unexpected delays in arriving and need to report later than the date listed on your I-20 or DS-2019 document, you must notify the ISSS office as soon as possible to discuss your options.

When purchasing your plane tickets, please look at the dates from the university's academic calendar, which can be found at american.edu/provost/registrat/schedule/academic-calendar.cfm.

Carry the following documents with you on the plane:

- passport with your F-1 or J-1 visa.
- SEVIS form I-20 or DS-2019
- copy of confirmation of SEVIS fee payment
- evidence of financial resources.
- evidence of student or exchange visitor status, such as letter of acceptance, tuition receipts or transcripts.
- contact information for International Student and Scholar Services (listed on the back of this guide)

Inform the immigration officer at the port of entry that you will be a student in the United States to ensure that you are admitted with student status.

Transportation to American University Campus. Washington, DC, is served by three airports: Dulles International Airport (IAD), Baltimore-Washington International Airport (BWI), and Reagan National Airport (DCA). You are responsible for arranging for your own transportation to the American University campus. From each airport, there are numerous ground transportation options, including taxis, shared shuttle vans, public buses, and trains. For more information, visit the ISSS website at american.edu/ocl/iss/Transportation-Ground.cfm.

>> STEP 10: CHECK-IN AT ISSS

We look forward to being among the first to welcome you to our campus. After you check in with your lodging arrangements, we encourage you to make the International Student and Scholar Services office one of your next stops. Our office is open Monday through Friday from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. We are located in the Butler Pavilion Building, suite 410.

At ISSS our mission is to help support you throughout your time at American University. We have many resources at your disposal, including academic support services, immigration and employment advising, intercultural programming, and more. The staff at ISSS is eager to help you succeed in your transition to the US and throughout your stay here at American University.

Reporting to International Student and Scholar Services. To validate your immigration status, ISSS must review and copy your original immigration documents, listed below:

- valid passport with F-1 or J-1 visa
- I-20 or DS-2019
- I-94 record (This will be issued upon entry into the US. You can obtain this record by going to cbp.gov/i94. Please note: this is only available after you enter the US).

FAILURE TO REPORT TO ISSS WITH THESE DOCUMENTS WILL JEOPARDIZE YOUR IMMIGRATION STATUS.

Dependents. All dependents on F-2 or J-2 visas must report to ISSS with their immigration documents (dependent I-20 or DS-2019, passport, I-94 record, and F-2 or J-2 visa) upon arrival in the United States. Please note that only spouses and children younger than 21 years of age are eligible for F-2 or J-2 status.
