Ayuda

Ayuda provides legal, social, and language services to help vulnerable immigrants in our neighborhoods access justice and transform their lives. Since 1973, they have served more than 100,000 low-income immigrants throughout Washington DC, Maryland and Virginia. Ayuda's dedicated professionals help immigrants from anywhere in the world navigate the immigration and justice systems and access the social safety net. This comprehensive approach breaks down barriers, helps those in need, and makes our communities stronger. Part of their mission is to include students, community members, lawyers, and immigrants themselves in our organization through volunteer work. Volunteers assist with a variety of essential tasks, from creating donation drives, scanning and organizing closed case files, to staffing our table at outreach events. Volunteers directly support many programs and are an integral part of their ability to assist the population serves with direct services.

Capitol Area Immigration Rights (CAIR) Coalition

CAIR Coalition brings together community groups, pro bono attorneys, volunteers and immigrants from DC, Virginia & Maryland working to ensure that all immigrants are treated with fairness, dignity and respect for their human and civil rights. They seek volunteers for jail visits and to serve on the detainee hotline. Students volunteering for the jail visits would, under the supervision of attorneys, visit federal immigration facilities in Virginia and Maryland and meet with immigrant detainees. Volunteers would assist with conducting legal intakes, follow-ups, and applications for relief. Volunteering on the detainee hotline entails receiving calls from detainees or their friends/relatives wishing to contact the CAIR Coalition on a 2-hour slot basis. Volunteers answer phones and help detainees connect with their attorney free of charge using our conference system, conducting phone intakes, or providing information about our upcoming jail visits. CAIR will train all volunteers before they go on jail visits or serve on the hotline.

Mary House

Mary House is a local nonprofit organization that works with immigrant and refugee families in the DC area. Mary House is open to all and many of the families are from foreign countries-including El Salvador, Mexico, Guatemala, Colombia, Bosnia, and Iraq. Volunteering would likely entail working with the after-school portion of our program. They want someone who could come in at least once or twice a week, for at least 3 months to help by tutoring the children who are kindergarten through 6th grade. All of the children speak English, and are either in a French or Spanish program at their school (Elsie Stokes, located about 10 minutes from the after school location. This is just across from the Catholic University/Brookland metro stop). The after-school program lasts from 3:00 to about 6:00.
