

CENTER for CONGRESSIONAL and PRESIDENTIAL STUDIES
SCHOOL of PUBLIC AFFAIRS

---

ANNUAL REVIEW: 2018-19 (In Brief)

It was another active and productive year for CCPS. Specifically, from September 2018 to July 2019, we:

- Sponsored or co-sponsored 13 events and symposia (see here and here)
- Published 2 books, 5 peer-reviewed articles, 11 book chapters, and 12 editorials/pieces of public scholarship
- Received 2 new grants, totaling $1.1 million dollars
- Inaugurated the Program on Legislative Negotiation, with support from the Hewlett Foundation and in partnership with Harvard University, the Partnership for a Secure America and the Library of Congress.
- Added five new CCPS fellows
- Supported 2 visiting scholars and 7 graduate students
- Awarded the Madison Prize and the Barbara Sinclair Lecture
- Sponsored Eagles Elect, a student-led voter registration drive
- Established/Deepened partnerships and working relationships with the following entities:
  - National Issues Forums
  - Library of Congress's Kluge Center
  - Pew Research Center
  - Hewlett Foundation
  - Kettering Foundation
  - Public Religion Research Institute
- Continued our long-standing relationship with the US-China Education Trust (USCET)
- Maintained the quality of Congress and the Presidency, under editor Jeff Crouch, Managing Editor Aaron Stuvland, and book editor Adam Warber
- Maintained the success of our professional Institutes and Weekend Workshops:
  - Campaign Management Institute (CMI)
  - Public Affairs and Advocacy Institute (PAAI)
  - European Public Affairs and Advocacy Institute (EPAAI)