

Jessica Furey

A founding partner of The Whitman Strategy Group, Jessica Furey is a regulatory expert with more than two decades of experience as a senior policy and legal advisor in the field of energy and the environment. She has worked extensively in the private and public sectors to promote environmental stewardship, sustainable and innovative business strategies, and clean technology promotion. Prior to joining WSG, Ms. Furey was the Associate Administrator for EPA's Office of Policy, Economics & Innovation, helping to manage the Agency's major regulations and interagency review process. She also served as Counselor to the Administrator, working on a wide range of issues, including complex rulemakings and cleanups, policy and guidance development, and enforcement matters.

From 1991-2001, Ms. Furey held a number of high-level legal and policy posts at the NJ State Attorney General's Office and Office of the Governor. As Deputy Chief Counsel, Ms. Furey provided counsel to then Governor Whitman on legislative, policy and regulatory matters and served as liaison to the NJ State Legislature. Earlier in her career, Ms. Furey worked as a deputy attorney general in the Environmental Protection Section and handled cases in the state and administrative law courts and later served as Executive Assistant Attorney General.

Ms. Furey is a graduate of Wellesley College and the Cardozo School of Law. She is a member of the New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts and US Supreme Court bars.
