

DEPARTMENT of PUBLIC
ADMINISTRATION & POLICY
SCHOOL of PUBLIC AFFAIRS

Research Seminar Series

Kerwin 301

9/21 | 12:00 PM

Umut Ozek

*Principal Researcher
American Institutes for Research*

UNWELCOME GUESTS?

The Effects of Refugees on the Educational Outcomes of Incumbent Students

Does a large refugee influx have an effect on incumbent students? Researchers say, No. This answer holds true regardless of economic status, and family and household attributes of incumbent students. Join us as Umut Ozek will discuss these findings during this public administration and policy series event.