TOPIC: Transforming the Organization - How to create a plan to effectively use the data from the Federal Human Capital survey to most effectively address the key problems identified by employees.

SPEAKERS: Mariangela Battista, Vice President Organizational Culture & Effectiveness, Starwood Corporation, and Jeffrey Saltzman, New York Practice Leader for Kenexa.

INFORMATION: OPM recently released the Federal Human Capital Survey, and the Best Places to Work in the Federal Government analysis is about to be released. The question for most agencies is how to use the data to address the problems and increase the scores.

Mariangela Battista has extensive experience leveraging data from employee surveys to increase Starwood productivity. Jeffrey Saltzman has broad experience conducting surveys and assisting organizations to effectively use the results in federal, state, and local governments, as well as in the private sector.

DATE: Please join us on Tuesday, April 10, 2007 for this complimentary meeting sponsored by Kenexa.
