

WASHINGTON SEMESTER PROGRAM at AMERICAN UNIVERSITY

Social Media Guide for Institutional Partners

Kaycie Goral: Interned for NPR's local affiliate podcast, "1A"

Link: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=wQDOt8CwNGY>

Facebook, LinkedIn, and Instagram: #ProgramFeature: Imagine producing an NPR show that is broadcast to all of Washington, DC! That was the experience of Kaycie Goral during her time at American University's Washington Semester Program. Students from around the world have come to the nation's capital to intern and take part in close-knit academic seminars for more than 70 years. Check out Kaycie's story here: <https://bit.ly/2MUjHKR>

Twitter: Kaycie Goral spent her summer interning for @NPR's local station, @WAMU in the Washington Semester program [@WSPintern]! Learn more about this program for students who seek #internship and #academic credit in #WashingtonDC
<https://bit.ly/2MUjHKR>

Steven Cook: Washington Semester Program Alum, Current Council on Foreign Relations Senior Fellow for Middle East & Africa Studies

https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=VpeE_rfc5oU

Facebook, LinkedIn, and Instagram: Before Steven Cook became a foreign policy expert for the Council on Foreign Relations, he participated in American University's Washington Semester Program. After his internship, he was offered a full-time job with them! In his words, "Had I not had the experience at the Washington Semester Program, I never would have discovered this world." Learn more about this unique "study abroad" experience here:

Twitter: Before Steven Cook became a foreign policy pundit for @CFR_org, he participated in the Washington Semester Program at American University [@WSPintern]. Because of his @CSIS internship, he was offered a full-time job w/ them after college! Learn more about this #internship and academic program:

Life as an Intern for The Washington Ballet

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=YO7na6U1POA>

Facebook, LinkedIn, and Instagram: Washington DC is more than a political hub. It's also the epicenter of a bustling and dynamic arts scene. The Washington Ballet is just one among thousands of internship sites available to Washington Semester Program participants. This American University Program is open to students from around the world who want to enhance their professional and academic readiness. Check out what it would be like to work at the ballet as a WSP student!

Twitter: Washington DC is more than a political hub. It's also the epicenter of a bustling arts scene. The Washington Semester Program [@WSPintern] offers this and other amazing internship opps for students. Check it out:

Life as an Intern for the NAACP Washington Bureau

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=G2HAr9R1et4>

Facebook, LinkedIn, and Instagram: The Washington Semester Program [@WSPintern] at American University offers students opportunities to intern at incredible sites to gain hands-on experience serving in the nation's capital. For instance, the NAACP gives interns the opportunity to specialize in diverse policy agendas. Bureau President Hilary O. Shelton explains why interns are the most important part of his team.

Twitter: Ever wanted to intern for @NAACP? The Washington Semester Program [@WSPintern] at American University offers students opportunities to intern at incredible sites like the NAACP to gain hands-on experience serving in the nation's capital. Check out one experience out of hundreds that students have at WSP!

Kami Simmons: Washington Semester Program Alumna, Former White House & Voice of America Intern

Link: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=7jPUv5JSbVI>

Facebook, LinkedIn, and Instagram: Hot off the Press! Kami Simmons spent one of her semesters in college participating in American University's Washington Semester Program to gain crucial internship and academic seminar experience in the nation's capital. From interning at the Obama White House to interning at CNN and

Social Media Guide for Institutional Partners

Voice of America, she's a self-proclaimed "Renaissance Woman" who is headed straight to the top in the world of broadcast journalism. Here's her story.

Twitter: When Kami Simmons participated in the Washington Semester Program [@WSPintern] at American University, she had the opportunity to gain hands-on experience at @VOAnews while also taking intensive #journalism seminars taught by Washington DC experts! Learn more about this 70-year-old program:

Amy Tamayo: WSP Alumna, Law Student at WCL

Link: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=ONBmg4wideEQ>

Facebook, LinkedIn, and Instagram: Considering #LawSchool? Amy Tamayo participated in American University's Washington Semester Program [@WSPintern] where she gained crucial internship and academic experience that set her up for success as a current J.D. Candidate! Check her story out & learn more about this advanced internship and academic seminar experience in the nation's capital:

Twitter: Considering #lawschool? Amy Tamayo spent one of her semesters in college at the Washington Semester Program [@WSPinten], where she gained crucial hands-on internship experience, coupled with intensive #academic seminars lead by field experts in #WashingtonDC. Learn more:

Maddie Clendening: WSP Student & LGBTQ Task Force Intern

Link: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=uSf446B1oes>

Facebook, LinkedIn, and Instagram: Maddie Clendening, originally from Hendrix College in Arkansas, spent her summer in Washington DC interning at the National LGBTQ Task Force while taking intensive #AmericanPolitics seminars. Learn about the incredible projects and hands-on skills she worked on throughout the Washington Semester Program!

Twitter: Maddie Clendening, originally from Hendrix College in Arkansas, spent her summer in #WashingtonDC interning @TheTaskForce while taking intensive American Politics seminars. Learn about the incredible projects and hands-on skills she worked on throughout the Washington Semester Program!