

INTERNATIONAL AND COMPARATIVE LAW

---

*Champion
What Matters*

LEARN WITH US

OUR GROUNDBREAKING INITIATIVES and comprehensive international programs are what make an American University Washington College of Law education a unique experience. Students join an engaged community of faculty, alumni, and scholars, and have opportunities to enrich their legal understanding and broaden their perspectives by participating in innovative programs at the law school and abroad.

Specialized international programs include:

- Academy on Human Rights and Humanitarian Law
- Brazil-U.S. Legal and Judicial Studies Program
- Center for Human Rights and Humanitarian Law
- Center on International Commercial Arbitration
- Hubert Humphrey Fellowship Program
- Immigrant Justice Clinic
- International Human Rights Law Clinic
- International JD Dual Degree Program
- International Legal Studies Program
- International Organizations, Law and Diplomacy Program
- Impact Litigation Project
- Kovler Project Against Torture
- Program on Information Justice and Intellectual Property
- Program on International and Comparative Environmental Law
- Program on International Communications Regulation and Policy
- Summer Abroad Programs in Europe, The Hague, and Geneva
- Trade, Investment, and Development Program
- U.S. and International Anti-Corruption Law
- War Crimes Research Office
- Women and International Law Program

150+

INTERNATIONAL
LAW COURSES

32

PARTNER LAW SCHOOLS
AROUND THE WORLD
FOR SEMESTERS ABROAD

3,500+

INTERNATIONAL LEGAL STUDIES
(ILSP) LL.M. ALUMNI WORLDWIDE

39

FOREIGN LANGUAGES
SPOKEN BY OUR 1L STUDENTS

27

FULL-TIME FACULTY TEACH
INTERNATIONAL LAW COURSES

“AMERICAN UNIVERSITY WASHINGTON COLLEGE OF LAW ACTIVELY CONTRIBUTES TO SHAPING LEGAL ISSUES

THAT AFFECT THE WORLD. I AM PROUD TO LEAD A LAW SCHOOL WITH SUCH ROBUST INTERNATIONAL LAW PROGRAMS AND

WORLD-RENOWNED FACULTY. IN THE YEARS AHEAD, WE WILL CONTINUE TO SUPPORT AND ENHANCE OUR GLOBAL REACH,

ENRICHING OPPORTUNITIES FOR STUDENTS AND FACULTY TO ENGAGE, BOTH AT HOME AND ABROAD.”

—DEAN CAMILLE A. NELSON

UNITY IN DIVERSITY

---

UNITY IN DIVERSITY is the philosophical approach we take toward international law and the world view that we strive to convey to the next generation of international lawyers. We believe our diverse student body and faculty strengthens and underscores our commitment to identifying, promoting, and protecting the core principles that secure our peaceful co-existence under international law. It is my great honor to lead the renowned international and comparative legal studies programs at American University Washington College of Law (AUWCL). International and comparative law has long been central to the educational mandate of AUWCL, and our innovative international programs have been consistently ranked among some of the most elite and prestigious programs in the United States. For over 20 years, AUWCL has grown its international offerings to include 20 programs, over 30 semester exchanges, and six dual degree programs. We continue our strength with cutting-edge hires of international law scholars and practitioners – most recently, Susan Franck, a renowned expert in international arbitration, and Rebecca Hamilton, a recognized expert in national security law. We are delighted that Dean Emeritus Claudio Grossman's dedication to international law remains a vital part of our institution, and that he has returned full-time to our faculty where he can continue his important work, particularly given his recent election to the International Law Commission (ILC).

Our international programs continue to benefit from the unique global outlook of Dean Camille Nelson. We are embarking on the next stage of expanding, consolidating, and deepening our international programs and building new initiatives in areas such as international economic law, transnational business law, labor migration, and global regulatory cooperation, and exploring new partnerships with law schools around the world.

I am proud to be a part of the vibrant and renowned international and comparative law faculty committed to making a positive impact in the world for decades to come.

Sincerely,

Padideh Ala'i

Director, International and Comparative Legal Studies Director, Hubert Humphrey Fellowship Program

SELECT EVENTS FROM 2016-17

Each year, AUWCL proudly sponsors the Annual GROTIUS LECTURE opening the American Society of International Law's (ASIL) Annual Meeting. ASIL President Lucinda Low and AUWCL Dean Camille Nelson introduced this year's lecturer Professor David Armitage, and distinguished discussant Professor Mary Dudziak.

On Aug. 22, 2017, Professor and Dean Emeritus Claudio Grossman opened the ANNUAL COURSE OF THE INTER-AMERICAN INSTITUTE OF HUMAN RIGHTS in San Jose, Costa Rica. The President of Costa Rica Luis Guillermo Solis joined in the opening ceremony, which was attended by 200 participants in the course, including academics, journalists, diplomats, civil servants, and members of non-governmental organizations.

United States Trade Representative General Counsel Timothy Reif presented the WENGER ANNUAL DISTINGUISHED LECTURE ON TRADE, entitled "U.S. Trade Policy at a Crossroads: The Way Forward."

From L to R: Professor Matthew Nicely '91, partner, Hughes & Hubbard; Mark Baun, Caprice Baun, Wellesley Baun Parker '12 (donors); Timothy Reif; and Professor Padideh Ala'i.

During the 2017 LUXEMBOURG FORUM, Professor and Director of the Program on International Organizations, Law and Diplomacy Fernanda Nicola moderated the keynote conversation "Judges as Diplomats in Advancing the Rule of Law" between U.S. Supreme Court Associate Justice Stephen Breyer and President of the Court of Justice of the European Union Koen Lenaerts.

THE CENTER ON INTERNATIONAL COMMERCIAL ARBITRATION presented "Investment and Commercial Arbitration: an International Arbitrator's Point of View," featuring Professor Brigitte Stern, Emeritus Professor of International Law at the University of Paris I, Panthéon-Sorbonne and world-renowned arbitrator.

AUWCL students attended the Summer Course: "WTO: RULE MAKING AND DISPUTE SETTLEMENT," at the WTO in Geneva.

From L to R (front row): Professor Ala'i; Victor do Prado, Director of Council and TNC Division at the WTO; and Christopher Wilson, USTR Deputy Chief of Mission.

Permanent Representatives to the WTO, Ambassador Marc Vanheukelen (EU) and Ambassador Alvaro Cedeño (Costa Rica), were also featured speakers (not pictured).

For details on upcoming events, please visit wcl.american.edu/international.

Our World Renowned Faculty

AMERICAN UNIVERSITY WASHINGTON COLLEGE OF LAW'S RICH INTELLECTUAL LIFE IS EVIDENT IN OUR FACULTY'S VIGOROUS ENGAGEMENT IN THE LOCAL, NATIONAL, AND INTERNATIONAL LEGAL COMMUNITY, AND THEIR DEDICATION TO INTERNATIONAL AND COMPARATIVE LAW THROUGH THEIR SCHOLARSHIP, PROGRAMMATIC INITIATIVES, WORK ON INTERNATIONAL CASES, SPEAKING ENGAGEMENTS, AND SERVICE TO INTERNATIONAL COMMITTEES AND ORGANIZATIONS BOTH AT HOME AND ABROAD.

Champions For Change

The following highlights the recent scholarly activities of our international and comparative law faculty.

PADIDEH ALA'I

Professor of Law

Director of International and Comparative Legal Studies

Ala'i specializes in international economic law, law of the World Trade Organization, and comparative law. Currently, Ala'i serves on the Executive Committee of the Society of International Economic Law (SIEL). She is also Associate Member of the International Academy of Comparative Law, Member of the Academic Board of the European Law Students' Association/World Trade Organization Moot Court Competition, and Chair of the Organizing Committee of Wenger Family Lecture Series on International Trade Law at AUWCL. Her recent publications include Research Handbook on Transparency (eds. with Robert Vaughn, Edward Elgar Publishing), "Transparency in International Economic Relations and the Role of the WTO" in Research Handbook on Transparency (with Matthew D'Orsi, Edward Elgar Publishing), "Climate Change Innovation, Products and Services Under the GATT/WTO System" in Research Handbook on Intellectual Property and Climate Change (with David Gantz, Edward Elgar Publishing), and "Civil Consequences of Corruption in International Commercial Contracts" in American Journal of Comparative Law.

KENNETH ANDERSON

Professor of Law

Anderson teaches and writes in the areas of business and international business law, public international law and governance, law of war and armed conflict, and, most recently, law and regulation of emerging technologies. He has published extensively on national security law topics, particularly counterterrorism, drone warfare, and autonomous weapons. He serves as book review editor of the national security and law website, Lawfare. Anderson is co-author of "Speaking the Law: The Obama Administration's Addresses on National Security Law" (Stanford University Press). His recent publications include "Debating Autonomous Weapon Systems, Their Ethics and Their Regulation Under International Law" in "The Oxford Handbook of the Regulation of Technology" (Oxford University Press) and "Why the Hurry to Regulate Autonomous Weapon Systems--But Not Cyber-Weapons?" in the Temple International Law & Comparative Law Journal.

MICHAEL CARROLL

Professor of Law

Director of the Program on Information Justice and Intellectual Property

Carroll's research focuses on the search for balance in intellectual property law in the face of challenges posed by new technologies, the social costs imposed by one-size-fits-all intellectual property rights, and the history of copyright in music. Carroll is a founding member of Creative Commons, Inc., a global organization that provides free, standardized copyright licenses to enable and encourage legal sharing of creative and other copyrighted works. He also serves on the Board of the Public Library of Science and recently completed service on the National Research Council's Board on Research Data and Information (2008-2013). His recent publications include "Copyright Law" 10th ed. (with Joyce, Ochoa, and Leaffer, Carolina Academic Press), "Safe Harbors from Intermediate Liability and Social Media" in Research Handbook on Electronic Commerce Law (Edward Elgar Press), "Intellectual Property and Related Rights in Climate Data" in Research Handbook on Intellectual Property and Climate Change (Edward Elgar Press), and "Sharing Research Data and Intellectual Property Law: A Primer" in PLOS Biology.

JANIE CHUANG

Professor of Law

Chuang teaches and writes in the areas of international law, human trafficking and labor migration. She currently serves as member of the Freedom Network USA, and of the Modern-Day Slavery and Trafficking Working Group for the Gilder Lehrman Center for the Study of Slavery, Resistance, and Abolition at Yale University. Chuang has served as an adviser to the United Nations, the International Labor Organization, and the Organization on Security and Cooperation in Europe. Chuang is a former Open Society Fellow and has served in leadership positions with the American Society of International Law and the International Law Association. Her recent publications include "Using Global Migration Law to Prevent Human Trafficking" in the American Journal of International Law Unbound, "Debt Bondage and 'Self-Exploitation'" in Unsettling Paradigms, Revisiting the Law of Human Trafficking, Forced Labor and Modern Slavery Fifteen Years after the Palermo Protocol, "Giving as Governance: Philanthrocapitalism and Modern-Day Slavery Abolitionism" in the UCLA Law Review, and "Exploitation Creep and the Unmaking of Human Trafficking Law," in the American Journal of International Law. She is at work on an interdisciplinary textbook, Human Trafficking.

Law, Policy, and Practice: International and U.S. Perspectives (with Anne Gallagher and Dina Haynes) (forthcoming, Carolina Academic Press 2018).

JENNIFER DASKAL

Associate Professor of Law

Daskal works on issues around privacy, surveillance, conflict of laws, and jurisdiction over the Internet. For the past year, she was an Open Society Institute Fellow, working on issues related to law enforcement access to data across borders. Her recent publication “Law Enforcement Access to Data: The Evolving Rights and Security Issues,” in Georgetown’s Journal of National Security Law and Policy, won the Privacy for Policymakers Paper award. Other recent and forthcoming publications include “The Un-Territoriality of Data” in the Yale Law Journal, “Borders and Bits” forthcoming in the Vanderbilt Law Review, and “Whose Law Governs in a Borderless World” published as a National Constitution Center White Paper. In April, she testified before the Senate Judiciary Committee on issues related to law enforcement access to data. Daskal also is a founding editor and regular contributor to the Just Security blog, frequent commentator in the media, and regular speaker at conferences both domestically and abroad. Daskal also is an Advisory Board member of the Electronic Privacy Information Center, is a fellow with the Center for Strategic and International Studies, and an affiliate of the Cybersecurity Project at Harvard’s Belfer Center.

CHRISTINE HAIGHT FARLEY

Professor of Law

Farley’s scholarship focuses on issues in trademark law, international IP law, and art law. She has been a visiting professor at law schools in France, India, Italy and Puerto Rico and has given lectures on IP law in more than 20 countries, and is Fulbright Specialist for intellectual property law. Her recent publications include “Looking Beyond the Known Story: How the Prehistory of GI Protection in the Americas Provides an Alternate Approach” in “Geographical Indications at the Crossroads of Trade, Development, and Culture in Asia-Pacific” (Cambridge University Press), “Green Marks” in “Research Handbook on Intellectual Property and Climate Change” (Edward Elgar Press), and “The Trademark Provisions in the TRIPS Agreement” in “Intellectual Property and International Trade: TRIPS Agreement” (with Calboli, Wolters Kluwer).

SEAN FLYNN

Professorial Lecturer in Residence

Associate Director of the Program on Information Justice and Intellectual Property

Flynn is an expert in international intellectual property law and its interface with development and human rights objectives. He leads research projects on the impact of copyright limitations and exceptions in the digital environment, using competition law to promote access to medicines, and public interest analysis of intellectual property rules in trade agreements. Some of his recent publications include “Copyright Legal and Practical Reform for the South African Film Industry” in the African Journal of Information and Communication, and “ACTA’s Constitutional Problem in the United States” in The ACTA and the Plurilateral Enforcement Agenda: Genesis and Aftermath (with Roffe and Seuba).

SUSAN D. FRANCK

Professor of Law

Franck is an expert in international economic law, arbitration, and the empirical analysis of international law. As a result of her groundbreaking scholarship, Franck was the first woman to give the prestigious John E.C. Brierley Memorial Lecture in International Arbitration at McGill University (2016) and was identified as an “American Classic” in International Investment Law (Brill 2017). Franck has made over 40 publications in journals and has made over 125 presentations across the world. Most recently, she published “Inside the Arbitrator’s Mind” in the Emory Law Journal, “Predicting Outcomes in Investment Treaty Arbitration” in the Duke Law Journal, and “The Diversity Challenge: Exploring the ‘Invisible College’ of International Arbitration” in the Columbia Journal of Transnational Law. Franck has also been elected to the International Who’s Who of Commercial Arbitration and the American Law Institute. She currently serves on the Executive Committee of the American Society of International Law and is the Chair of the Academic Council of the Institute of Transnational Arbitration.

ROBERT GOLDMAN

Professor of Law

Louis C. James Scholar

Co-Director of the Center for Human Rights and Humanitarian Law

Goldman is an expert in the areas of international law, human rights law, terrorism, and international humanitarian law. Goldman was a member of the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights (IACHR) from 1995-2004, and IACHR President from 1999-2000. Prior to his election to the Inter-American Commission, he was a member of the Policy Committee of Human Rights Watch and the Advisory Boards of Americas Watch, Helsinki Watch, and Middle East Watch. In 2009, he was elected a Commissioner and member of the Executive Committee of the International Commission of Jurists (ICJ) and in 2013 was elected Vice President. In March 2017, he was appointed Acting President of the ICJ.

HORACIO GRIGERA NAÓN

*Distinguished Practitioner
in Residence*

Director of the Center on International Commercial Arbitration

Grigera Naón is presently an independent international arbitrator and consultant on arbitration and business and international law matters, a former Secretary General of the International Court of Arbitration of the International Chamber of Commerce, and a practitioner in the field of international commercial arbitration and international business law for over 30 years. He has contributed the chapter “Should International Commercial Arbitrators Declare a Law Unconstitutional?” to the book Practicing Virtue, Inside International Arbitration (Oxford University Press). In 2017, Grigera Naón led a Masterclass for Arbitrators, an advanced level training for participants to gain a deeper insight into some of the provisions of the ICC Rules of Arbitration while learning about the latest developments and best practices related to serving as an international arbitrator, for the International Chamber of Commerce Institute in San Jose, Costa Rica, and Washington, D.C.

CLAUDIO GROSSMAN

Professor of Law

Dean Emeritus

*Raymond Geraldson
Scholar for International and Humanitarian Law*

Grossman has contributed to promoting the rule of law, human rights, and legal education in both international and domestic organizations, and has been consistently recognized as one of the top 25 most influential people in legal education. Grossman was elected to the United Nations International Law Commission in November 2016 for a five-year term, and previously served as member (2003-2015) and Chairperson (2008-2015) of the United Nations Committee against Torture. He is also President of the Inter-American Institute of Human Rights. In July 2017, he gave a speech on “Freedom of Expression in the Western Hemisphere” at the United Nations International Law Seminar, Geneva, Switzerland. In 2015, Grossman presented his statement as Chairperson of the United Nations Committee against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment, at the 70th Session of the General Assembly, Third Committee, Item 73 (a & c). His article, “Implementing Human Rights in Closed Environments through the United Nations Convention against Torture,” was included in Human Rights in Closed Environments, a special issue of the journal Law in Context.

REBECCA HAMILTON

Assistant Professor of Law

Hamilton’s research and teaching focus on national security law, international law, and criminal law. She is the author of “Fighting for Darfur: Public Action and the Struggle to Stop Genocide” (Palgrave Macmillan), which analyzes citizen activism and the effort to stop mass atrocities. She previously served as a lawyer in the prosecutorial division of the International Criminal Court, working on cases in the Democratic Republic of Congo, Central African Republic, Uganda, and Sudan. Her most recent article “State-Enabled Crimes” was published in the Yale Journal of International Law. In 2016, she was selected for a “New Voices” presentation to the American Society of International Law’s annual meeting on the topic of adjudicating the state’s role in international crime.

DAVID HUNTER

Professor of Law

Director of the Program on International and Comparative Environmental Law

Hunter researches and teaches international environmental and human rights law. He was formerly Director of AUWCL’s International Legal Studies Program, Executive Director of the Center for International Environmental Law, and an environmental consultant to the Czech and Slovak environmental ministries. He currently serves on the Boards of Directors of the Bank Information Center, the Environmental Law Alliance Worldwide-US, EarthRights International, and as Chair of the Project on Government Oversight. He is a Member Scholar of the Center for Progressive Reform, a member of the Organization of American States’ Expert Group on Environmental Law, and member of the International Finance Corporation’s Compliance Advisor/Ombudsman’s Strategic Advisors Group. Hunter is author of many articles and books on international environmental law and associated topics, and is a co-author of textbooks on International Environmental Law and Policy (Foundation Press) and Climate Change and the Law (Lexis Nexis Publishing).

DANIELA KRAIEM

Practitioner in Residence

Associate Director of the Women and the Law Program

Kraiem collaborates with Professor Susana SaCouto to lead projects on sexual and gender-based violence committed during times of conflict, mass violence, or repression. Professors Kraiem and SaCouto have secured grants from the U.S. Department of States to provide training, legal research tools, and confidential legal assistance to support the prosecution of sexual and gender-based crimes that occurred during the conflict in Bosnia and Central African Republic. Kraiem and SaCouto collaborated with Professor Claudia Martin to secure a Rockefeller Foundation Bellagio Center Conference Grant for “Ending Impunity for Sexual and Gender-based Violence in Conflict or Mass Repression in Latin America.” They brought together a group of judges, prosecutors, academics, and civil society advocates from across Latin America to share information, assess needs, and brainstorm directions for future collaborations.

CLAUDIA MARTIN

*Professorial Lecturer
in Residence*

Co-Director of the Academy on Human Rights and Humanitarian Law

Martin teaches and specializes in international law and international protection of human rights. Her recent publications include “Human Rights of Older People, International and Regional Legal Perspectives” in “Ius Gentium: Comparative Perspectives on Law and Justice” (with Rodríguez-Pinzón and Brown, Springer). In her role as a Member of the Secretariat of the GQUAL Campaign in 2015, she presented “Article 8 of the Convention to Eliminate All Forms of Discrimination against Women: A Stepping Stone to Ensuring Gender Parity in International Organs and Tribunals” before the UN Committee on the Elimination of All Forms of Discrimination against Women in Geneva.

In 2017, Martin lectured on “The Role and Contentious Jurisdiction of the Inter-American Court of Human Rights” at the UN Audiovisual Library of International Law.

JUAN MÉNDEZ

*Professor of Human Rights
Law in Residence*

Méndez was formerly the President of the Inter-American Commission on Human Rights (2002) and Special Rapporteur on Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman and Degrading Treatment or Punishment from 2010-2016. In early 2017, Méndez was elected Commissioner of the International Commission of Jurists, and was named a member of the Selection Committee to appoint magistrates of the Special Jurisdiction for Peace and members of the Truth Commission set up as part of the Colombian Peace Accords. His recent publications include “Introduction and Annex: Gender Perspectives on Torture and Other Ill-Treatment” (thematic report of UN Special Rapporteur on Torture), in Gender Perspectives on Torture, (forthcoming 2017); “Evolving Standards for Torture in International Law” (with Andra Nicolescu), in Torture and Its Definition In International Law: An Interdisciplinary Approach, (Oxford: OUP, 2017); “How International Law can Eradicate Torture: A Response to Cynics” in Southwestern Journal of International Law; and “Peace making, Justice and the ICC” (with Jeremy Kelley), in Contested Justice: The Politics and Practice of

*International Criminal Court
Interventions* (Cambridge: CUP).

CAMILLE A. NELSON

Dean

Professor of Law

Nelson’s areas of research include comparative criminal law and transnational law. In 2016, The National Jurist named Nelson among “the Most Influential People in Legal Education,” for shaping the future of law schools in the U.S. Her many professional service engagements include service on the Harvard Law School Visiting Committee, the Open Society Foundation’s Demography is Not Destiny Advisory Group, and the Association of American Law School’s Nominating Committee. Most recently, in September 2016, Nelson was elected to the Governing Council of the ABA Center for Innovation, and in January 2017, to the Executive Committee of the Association of American Law Schools. Her scholarship has appeared in a variety of scholarly publications and academic forums, such as the Journal of Politics and Law, the Berkeley Journal of Criminal Law, and the Yale Journal of Law & Feminism. Her most recent publications include “Increasing Women’s Political Participation in Lebanon: Reflections on Hurdles, Opportunities, and Hope” in the Journal of Politics and Law.

FERNANDA NICOLA

Professor of Law

*Director of the Program on International Organizations,
Law and Diplomacy*

Nicola’s research and teaching interests are in comparative law, European Union law, transnational legal theory, and local government law. In Spring 2017, she was a visiting scholar at LUISS in Rome and held the Fernand Braudel Senior Fellowship at the European University Institute (EUI) in Florence. Over the past year, Nicola was a speaker at “The State of the Union: Building a People’s Europe” (EUI) and “The Role of the Stories in the Jurisprudence of the European Court of Justice” at EUI, and moderator of the Stephen Breyer-Koen Lenaerts debate “Judges as Diplomats in Advancing the Rule of Law” as part of the 2017 Luxembourg Forum held at AUWCL. Her recent publications include “National Legal Traditions at Work in the Jurisprudence of the Court of Justice of the European Union” in the American Journal of Comparative Law, and EU Law Stories: Contextual and Critical Histories of European Jurisprudence (Cambridge University Press, co-editor with Bill Davies), as well as her forthcoming article “Luxembourg Judicial Style with or without the UK” in the Fordham International Law Journal.

DIANE ORENTLICHER

Professor of Law

Orentlicher has been described by the Washington Diplomat as “one of the world’s leading authorities on human rights law and war crimes tribunals.” She has lectured and published widely on issues of transitional justice, international criminal law, and public international law, and has testified before the United States Senate and House on issues relating to domestic human rights laws and U.S. foreign policy. Orentlicher has served as the Deputy for War Crimes Issues in the U.S. Department of State during the Obama Administration, United Nations Independent Expert on Combating Impunity, and Special Advisor to the High Commissioner on National Minorities of the Organization for Security and Co-operation in Europe. Her recent and forthcoming publications include “Some Kind of Justice: The Impact of the International Criminal Tribunal for the Former Yugoslavia in Bosnia-Herzegovina and Serbia,” Prologue for Commentary on the UN Set of Principles for the Protection and Promotion of Human Rights through Action to Combat Impunity (Oxford University Press), “International Norms in Human Right Fact-Finding” in The Transformation of Human Rights Fact-Finding (Oxford University Press), and “The Tension between Law and Politics: Can the ICC Navigate a Multi-polar World?” in the ASIL Proceedings of the 107th Meeting. In 2017, Orentlicher gave a talk at the Congressional Human Rights Summer

Series at the U.S. Capitol on “Accountability for Grave Human Rights Abuses.”

JAYESH RATHOD

Professor of Law

Founding Director of the Immigrant Justice Clinic

Rathod is an expert on immigration law, labor and employment law, and clinical legal education. In Fall 2016, Rathod was a Fulbright Scholar and Visiting Professor at Universidade de Brasília and Universidade Estadual da Paraíba, Brazil. His recent publications include “Country Conditions in Central America and Asylum Decision-Making: Report from a January 2017 Workshop” (with Eric Hershberg and Dennis Stinchcomb), “Brazil Sets Global Example with Inclusive New Immigration Law” in the Miami Herald, and “Danger and Dignity: Immigrant Day Laborers and Occupational Risk” in the Seton Hall Law Review. Rathod was also honored with the South Asian Americans Leading Together 2017 ChangeMakers Award as part of the National South Asian Summit in April.

DIEGO RODRÍGUEZ-PINZÓN

Professorial Lecturer in Residence

Co-Director of the Academy

on Human Rights and Humanitarian Law

Rodríguez-Pinzón is an expert in the fields of international law and international human rights. His most recent publications include “Building Prevention to Protect: The Inter-American Human Rights System” with Carlos Portales in Anuario Colombiano de Derecho Internacional, and “Introductory Note to the Inter-American Convention on Protecting the Rights of Older Persons” in “International Legal Materials” for the American Society of International Law. Over the past year, he has been the keynote speaker at the Forum Deusto, Universidad de Deusto, Bilbao, Spain, and at the Inter-American Defense Board of the Organization of American States. Rodríguez-Pinzón has also been an Ad Hoc Judge of the Inter-American Court of Human Rights of the Organization of American States from February 2007 to September 2011.

SUSANA SÁCOUTO

Professorial Lecturer in Residence

Director of the War Crimes Research Office

Sácouto is an expert in international criminal law and international human rights. Her most recent publications include “Investigative Management, Strategies, and Techniques of the International Criminal Court’s Office of the Prosecutor” in The Law and Practice of the International Criminal Court: A Critical Account of Challenges and Achievements with Katherine Cleary (Oxford University Press). She has spoken extensively on the topics regarding international criminal law, most recently in April 2017 at the American Society of International Law Annual Meeting, and in 2016 at the Swiss Federal Department of Foreign Affairs in The Hague, and the Washington Working Group for the International Criminal Court at the U.S. Congress. She also collaborates with Professor Kraiem on government-funded projects on cross topics of gender and war crimes.

CATHERINE SCHENKER

Professorial Lecturer

Director of the Legal English Program

Director of Graduate Programs

In August 2015 and 2016, Schenker taught Legal Analysis at the Chinese University of Political Science and Law, Beijing, China. Her recent presentations include “International Learners and Legal Writing: Pitfalls and Promising Practices” at the SEALS 2017 Annual Meeting, “International Student Wellness” at AUWCL’s 2015 LL.M. Administrators’ Conference, and “It Takes a Truly Global Village: Maximizing Resources to Fully Serve the Needs of International Students” at the NASPA 2015 Annual Conference.

MACARENA SÁEZ

Director of the Center for Human Rights and Humanitarian Law

Fellow in the International Legal Studies Program

Sáez is an expert on international human rights, family law, and comparative law, including sexual orientation and gender identity, and gender discrimination in Latin America. Her recent publications include “Commentary, Planned Parenthood of Southeastern Pennsylvania v. Casey” in U.S. Feminist Judgments Project (Cambridge University Press), Same-Sex Couples: Comparative Insights on Marriage and Cohabitation (Springer), and “Transforming Family Law Through Same-sex Marriage: Lessons From (and To) the Western World” in the Duke Journal of Comparative & International Law, for which she received the William M. LeoGrande Award. She has spoken at Rutgers Law School, Center for Law and Justice for a lecture on “Vulnerability and Agency: Trans Women in Sex Work,” as well as at King’s College London, Dickson Poon School of Law for a panel on “Litigation of LGBTI Cases before the Inter-American System of Human Rights.” In 2015, Sáez was an expert witness requested by the Constitutional Court of Colombia on international human rights standards and marriage equality.

ANITA SINHA

Assistant Professor of Law

Director of the International Human Rights Law Clinic

Sinha is an expert on human rights issues related to forced migration and detention, and the intersection of immigration and constitutional law. As a clinical teacher, she has supervised students on U.S. immigration cases, as well as transnational and international projects. In April 2017, Sinha was the keynote speaker for the U.S. State Department’s International Leadership Program on promoting human rights, and had the opportunity to meet with Brazilian President Dilma Rousseff regarding democracy, human rights, and women in politics. She directed a 2017 summer course at The Hague entitled “International Legal Approaches to Terrorism.” Her most recent publications include “Arbitrary Detention? The Immigration Detention Bed Quota,” published in the Duke Journal of Constitutional Law & Public Policy in Spring 2017.

DAVID SNYDER

Professor of Law

Director of the Business Law Program

Snyder teaches and researches in the areas of contracts and commercial law, including their international and comparative aspects. He is a regular visiting professor (professeur invité) at the University of Paris II (Panthéon-Assas) and is serving on a doctoral jury at the University of Paris I (Panthéon-Sorbonne). Snyder is currently the Chair of the American Bar Association Business Law Section Working Group to Draft Human Rights Protections in Supply Contracts in which he leads twice yearly meetings throughout the country. His recent publications include the book (coauthored with Martin Davies) International Transactions in Goods: Global Sales in Comparative Context (Oxford University Press).

LINDSAY F. WILEY

Professor of Law

Director of the Health Law and Policy Program

Wiley’s research focuses on access to health care and healthy living conditions in the U.S. and globally. Her recent publications include Public Health Law: Power, Duty, Restraint (with Gostin) and several articles and book chapters on legal issues at the intersection of global health, environmental change, food systems, and infectious disease.

PAUL WILLIAMS

Rebecca I. Grazier

Professor of Law and International Relations

Director of the JD/MA Dual Degree Program

Williams is the Co-Founder of the Public International Law & Policy Group, a non-profit group, which provides pro bono legal assistance to states and governments involved in peace negotiations, post-conflict constitution drafting, and war crimes prosecutions. In 2016, he testified before the European Sub-Committee of the House Foreign Affairs Committee of the U.S. Congress regarding the concept of Earned Sovereignty, and was the keynote speaker on transitional justice in Colombian peace process at Inter-American Defense College in Washington, D.C. In 2015, he presented at “The Power of Empowered Women Conference” held by the United Nations in Geneva. Williams has served as Legal Advisor to the Syrian Opposition Delegation to the Geneva peace negotiations and to the United Nations Mediator for the Yemen peace negotiations. His recent publications include “Reflecting on Yemen’s Plan for a Transition from a Unitary to Federal System of Governance” in the Utrecht Journal of International Law and “The Right Way to Create Safe Zones in Syria” in Foreign Affairs.

AMERICAN UNIVERSITY
WASHINGTON, DC

WASHINGTON COLLEGE OF LAW
4300 NEBRASKA AVE., NW
WASHINGTON, DC 20016-2132

EO/AA UNIVERSITY AND EMPLOYER

wcl.american.edu/international

*Champion
What Matters*