Student Rights and Responsibilities

You have the right to:

- Privacy - all records and documentation submitted for financial aid purposes will be treated confidentially and mechanisms by which to submit paperwork securely will be provided.
- Know what aid is available through the American University Washington College of Law (AUWCL), including all federal, state, and institutional assistance.
- An explanation of the award process, including application deadlines, selection criteria, terms, policies, procedures, regulations that apply to each of the programs, the amount of aid awarded, the aid programs included in your package, and how your aid is disbursed.

This includes how costs for tuition and fees, housing and food, transportation, books and supplies, and miscellaneous personal expenses are included in your student budget. Tuition and fees are set by the board of trustees on an annual basis.
- You have the right to know what portion of the financial aid you receive is gift assistance (grants and scholarships) and what portion is self-help (loans and employment).
- If you have a student loan, you have the right to know the terms of the loan. This includes the interest rate, the total amount that must be repaid, the length of time you have to repay, when you must start repayment, cancellation provisions, deferment and forbearance possibilities, and any special consolidation or refinancing options.
- You have the right to know how AUWCL determines whether you are making Satisfactory Academic Progress and what happens if you are not.
- You have the right to appeal your financial aid award if there are special circumstances that you believe were not taken into consideration.
- You have the right to know the university's Refund and Repayment policy. You also have the right to know how a change in enrollment will affect your financial aid and your student account.

- Know the University's tuition refund policy.
- Information regarding the University's drug prevention policy.
- Expect fair and equitable treatment under the policies governing award of financial aid. The university does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, sex, religion, national origin, age, sexual orientation, political affiliation, source of income, veteran's status, or disability.

You are responsible for:

- Reading and understanding all forms and agreements that you sign, and adhering to all policies therein.
- Submitting honest and accurate information. Funds obtained on the basis of false information must be repaid and may subject you to penalties under the United States criminal code.
- Following any request for supplemental documentation that supports your financial circumstances. Changes in or discrepant information may result in revision of your award.
- Submitting required documents in a timely manner.
- Reporting any change in your financial or student status. A change in credit hours may result in a federally-mandated award adjustment. Both federal and institutional regulations govern the refund and repayment of financial aid if you withdraw from school before the completion of a term for which aid has been awarded.
- Knowing that all Admissions (including final transcript) and Financial Aid requirements must be satisfied before financial aid is eligible to disburse.
- Using your financial aid funds for educational expenses, as outlined in the AUWCL cost of attendance, and understanding that financial aid is only available for credits and requirements in furtherance of your degree.
- Reporting outside assistance received (examples of such aid include veterans' benefits, private scholarships, state grants or loans, tuition remission and employer tuition assistance), knowing that the assistance may reduce other financial aid, and that all aid is subject to Cost of Attendance guidelines.
- Knowing that institutional funds awarded by AUWCL, in combination with tuition-only outside assistance, cannot exceed AUWCL tuition and mandatory student fees, and do not cover other expenses or fees such as health insurance or parking. Total awards cannot exceed the established cost of attendance for your designated program of study.
- Understanding that full-time enrollment requires a minimum of 12 credit hours per fall/spring term. Half-time enrollment requires a minimum of six (6) credit hours per fall/spring term. Half-time enrollment is required for receipt of federal financial aid; less than half-time enrollment in any term will result in cancellation of your award. Please note: Beginning with summer 2020, half-time enrollment in the summer term only is defined as three credit hours and full-time enrollment in the summer term only is defined as six credit hours.
- Complying with the terms and conditions of your financial aid award. This includes deadlines, enrollment, and continued eligibility requirements for federal and institutional aid, application procedures, etc.
- Being aware of University policies as they pertain to your financial aid. Such policies include but are not limited to University tuition cancellation and refund policies, satisfactory academic progress requirements and policies regarding withdrawal from American University Washington College of Law.
- Understanding that credits added after a term has concluded cannot be covered by federal or institutional financial aid and must be paid out-of-pocket.
- Knowing that private education loans are generally utilized by students who do not qualify for federal education loans, and are capped at the cost of attendance minus total financial aid received. All private education loans must be certified by the AUWCL Office of Financial Aid and borrowers must notify the office in writing when approved. Additional processing time is required and refunds for living expenses, if applicable, may be delayed.
- Completing federal loan entrance counseling and master promissory note(s), in addition to any other supplemental requirements, for all federal loans borrowed. If you take out a loan, you are responsible for repaying it. Failure to meet this obligation may result in wage garnishment and an adverse credit rating and may make you ineligible for future educational loans.
- Completing federal loan exit counseling requirements prior to graduation, or if you reduce your enrollment status to less than half-time.
- You are responsible for maintaining and updating address changes via the student portal. Name changes must be reported to AUWCL Registrar. This will ensure that the AUWCL Office of Financial Aid will have the most recent and accurate information.
- Understanding that you are unable to receive financial aid in a semester-based program and a four-term program in the same academic year.

- Knowing that American University and AUWCL assume no liability for any error in your Financial Aid Award notice or in the disbursement of your financial aid funds.

Satisfactory Academic Progress Policy

Recipients of federal (Title IV) funds must maintain Satisfactory Academic Progress (SAP) toward their degree objective to remain eligible for financial assistance. The financial aid programs covered by the SAP policy include the Direct Stafford Loan Program, Direct Grad PLUS Loan Program, and the Federal Work-Study Program. The policy also applies to private loans, AUWCL institutional aid and any programs requiring school certification. Students receiving financial aid are responsible for understanding the SAP policy and for being in compliance and understanding the consequences of noncompliance.

AUWCL measures SAP according to the following mandated standards:

1. Qualitative Standard (Grade Point Average)

AUWCL students must maintain a minimum 2.0 cumulative grade point average.

2. Quantitative Standard (Completion Rate)

Attempted credits are compared to successfully completed credits.

Full-time and part-time programs - students admitted to both the full-time and part-time programs must complete two-thirds of attempted coursework cumulatively, or term, if on probation.

For SAP purposes courses assigned grades of A, B, C, D or P count as successfully completed credits. The following grades have no numerical value and are considered attempted but NOT successfully completed: Withdrawal (W), Audit (L), and Fail or Pass-Fail options (ZF), Incomplete (I), Unreported Grade (N), Administrative Withdrawal (ZL), and Administrative Failure (ZX). In Progress (IP) courses may be excluded from SAP evaluation (on a case-by-case basis with AUWCL Administration approval); however, satisfactory academic progress must be met within one term of the evaluation period. Journal and clinic credits do not count as earned credits until grades are reported.

3. Maximum Time Frame

AUWCL aid recipients must complete their academic program within 150 percent of the time frame defined by AUWCL Academic Requirements and Policies for completion of degree requirements.

Frequency of Monitoring

Satisfactory Academic Progress is measured annually at the end of the academic year following receipt of spring grades and before aid is awarded for the coming school year. Students who fail to satisfy SAP requirements are notified in writing. Please note: For students attending summer, financial aid for that term is not able to disburse until all spring grades are finalized and evaluated for continued SAP eligibility, which will delay refunds and requires students to plan ahead to cover living expenses during that period.

Loss of Eligibility

Failure to meet SAP standards will result in loss of financial aid eligibility. Eligibility may be restored by a change of grade, and/or completion of an (I) Incomplete or (IP) In-Process course. It should be noted that there is no set aside of funds for students seeking to restore eligibility and aid is offered as available should reinstatement occur.

Financial Aid Appeals

A student who fails to meet progress standards may appeal loss of financial aid eligibility based on mitigating, non-volitional circumstances. Circumstances which may be considered include a death within the immediate family, illness or injury to the student or other serious and undue hardship. The appeal must be submitted in writing to the Financial Aid Office within 30 days of receipt of the loss of eligibility notice and must include:

- Details of the circumstances, along with relevant supporting documentation, that affected the student's ability to meet the SAP standard.
- Details of how the unusual circumstances have been resolved and an action plan for meeting satisfactory academic progress by the next evaluation.

A written response will be issued by the SAP Appeals Committee. The decision of the Appeals Committee is final.

If an appeal is approved, financial aid for which the student has applied and is otherwise eligible, will be restored for a one-term probationary period during which time the student must demonstrate successful completion of the plan set forth in the appeal and all other progress requirements. If SAP is not met by the end of the probationary period, the student will be placed on financial aid suspension and denied funding until such time as all components of the policy are met. If SAP is met during the probationary period but not in the overall evaluation, the student will remain on probation in each term until the overall is satisfied. If after any subsequent term SAP is not met during a probationary period, the student will be placed on financial aid suspension and denied funding until such time as all components of the policy are met.

Withdrawal, Cancellation, and Refund of Tuition

A student who withdraws from the law school must submit appropriate forms to the Law School Registrar. Cancellation of tuition charges will be calculated as of the date the withdrawal notice is received by the AUWCL Registrar's Office and according to the following schedule:

Withdrawal through:	week two of classes*	100%
	week three of classes	50%
	week four of classes	25%
Withdrawal after:	week four of classes	None

* as defined by the Academic Calendar

Students who do not officially withdraw during the cancellation period will be responsible for payment of all assessed tuition and fees.

Institutional Aid Recipients

Students withdrawing during the refund period will have any applicable institutional aid adjusted to match the prorated tuition percentage. Partially attended terms in which institutional aid was received count as an entire term of eligibility.

Federal Aid Recipients

The following refund policy governs recipients of federal Title IV financial aid funds:

Under federal regulations financial aid is "earned" as the term progresses. When a student withdraws from all classes, the percentage of the award(s) earned must be determined. The earned portion of an award can be retained by the student while the unearned portion must be returned to the Title IV financial aid program from which it was received, up to the net amount disbursed from each source, in the following order: Unsubsidized Direct Stafford loans and then Direct PLUS loans.

A student who officially withdraws from AUWCL before the 60% point of the term will have their financial aid prorated based upon the length of their attendance during the term. With the confirmed last date of attendance after the 60% point of the term, the financial aid award is considered fully earned and not subject to return.

Withdrawal from some but not all classes will result in a recalculation of financial aid based on the final number of credit hours of enrollment.

Questions about how the refund and repayment regulations may affect financial aid should be directed to the AUWCL Financial Aid Office before completing the official withdrawal.

AUWCL LL.M. Scholarship Policy

The following policies are applicable for students beginning enrollment in fall 2024 and beyond.

The LL.M. programs offer a variety of institutional scholarships with the majority awarded through the LL.M. admissions process. The awarding of scholarships is determined by the individual LL.M. programs, not the AUWCL Financial Aid Office.

Scholarship recipients are required to maintain a 2.00 or above cumulative grade point average (GPA), in addition to completing at least 67% of attempted credits. Students at risk of not meeting the academic requirements should refer to the AUWCL satisfactory academic progress (SAP) policy.

LL.M. scholarships, in combination with tuition-only assistance, cannot exceed AUWCL tuition and mandatory fees, and do not cover other expenses or fees such as health insurance or parking. Scholarships are only applicable to courses and requirements in furtherance of the degree.

Scholarship funds are only available within 5 years after the first date of matriculation at American University Washington College of Law. Partially attended terms in which scholarships were received count toward overall scholarship eligibility.

LL.M. Scholarships will be awarded proportionally to registration each term as follows:

$$\text{Total Remaining Scholarship Credits} \times \frac{\text{Current Term Registered Credits}}{\text{Total Remaining Program Credits}}, \text{ rounded down.}$$

This helps ensure that students are able to utilize scholarship funds throughout the program and do not run out of funds before completing their degree.

Allocations in a particular term are subject to change based on registration and will be finalized after the add/drop period each term.

Scholarships amounts cannot be increased at any time.

Scholarship recipients are limited to one LL.M. scholarship.

Scholarship credits cannot be applied retroactively to completed terms.

Recipients are responsible for any tax implications associated with the scholarship. AUWCL makes no representations or warranty to recipients concerning the tax treatment of the scholarship, and any tax consequences to the recipients, which may arise out of the scholarship shall be recipient's sole responsibility.
